INDIAN-AMERICAN TEEN HARINI LOGAN WINS SPELLING BEE 2022

The 14-year-old eighth-grader from San Antonio, Texas won the spelling competition in the first-ever lightning-round tiebreaker

CRACKED 22 OUT OF 26 WORDS IN 90 SECONDS

Harini beat Vikram Raju in the prestigious contest in a marathon, a first-of-its-kind 90-second spell-off to win the 2022 Scripps National Spelling Bee. She spelled 22 out of 26 words correctly, while Raju, a 12-year-old boy from Denver, got 15 out of 19 words right in the rapid round that tested the contestants on how many words they could spell correctly in 90 seconds

'MOORHEN' SEALS THE WIN FOR HARINI

- Harini's final winning word was 'moorhen', which means the female of the red grouse (a wild bird found in UK and Ireland)
- Spelling Bee features elementary and middle school students spelling words that would cause most adults to stumble
- The champion takes home a cheque for $50,000

Slew of steps to reassure restive Pandits

Relocation of non-Muslim staff fine but not outside Valley; Pak terror outfits plotting targeted killings, meeting told

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

THE Centre will take a combination of political, administrative and security measures to reassure Kashmiri Pandits and other "non-local" communities to remain at their places of residence and not migrate to either Jammu or other places in North India, a high-level meeting chaired by Union Home Minister Amit Shah at North Block on Friday decided.

The meeting, attended by J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha, National Security Advisor Ajit Doval, Home Secretary Ajay Bhalla, Intelligence Bureau Director Arvind Kumar, RAW Secretary Samant Goel and Army chief General Manoj Pande, among others, was a consequence of a series of targeted killings of men and women from these two communities living in the Valley.

While Sinha and the Union Territory's police top brass were specifically told to take concrete measures — meetings with representatives of the two communities, tougher and effective "local level" policing, some form of financial succour based on a 2012 prime minister's package for J&K — senior officials were told that the Pandits and the Hindu migrant communities "cannot be settled outside" Kashmir.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah with J&K Lt Governor Manoj Sinha (L) and NSA Ajit Doval at a review meeting on J&K's security situation, in New Delhi

Officials were told that members of these communities could be resettled within Kashmir but under no circumstances should they leave the Valley. To ensure this, micro-level policing would be the most desired approach with larger presence of securitymen in some of the worst-hit districts such Budgam and Kulgam.

The security component of the outcome of the meeting included use of a combination of technology and boots on the ground, backed by sharp and precise intelligence to deter and wherever possible eliminate terrorist cells still operating in parts of J&K.

The meeting identified three broad characteristics — a) Pakistan-based "non-state actors" were trying to destabilise Kashmir; b) these non-state actors have undertaken a huge drive to recruit Kashmiri youth to carry out the targeted killings; and c) the threatened Pandits and other Hindu communities would be relocated in safe zones within Kashmir and they would be provided adequate security at the village level. A private bus goes up in flames after falling into a ditch killing seven people near Kamalapur in Kalaburagi district on Friday morning | EXPRESS

7 charred to death in bus accident in Kalaburagi

RAMKRISHNA BADSESHI
@ Kalaburagi

A trip to Goa turned tragic for two families from Secunderabad in Telangana, as two couples and their children were among seven who were charred to death when the bus in which they were travelling collided head-on with a goods vehicle near Kamalapur in Kalaburagi district on Friday.

The ill-fated private bus, belonging to Orange Tours and Travels, went up in flames after it hit a roadside bridge and fell into a ditch. The impact of the collision was such that the bus was dragged for about 30 metres after ramming the goods vehicle. The diesel tank of the bus exploded which caused the fire. All seven victims were charred beyond recognition.

The deceased have been identified as Arjun Gudur (37), his wife Saraladevi (35), their daughter Vihan (4), Shivakumar (35), his wife Ravali (30) and their son Vikshit (9), and Anita (40). CONTINUED ON: P7

IT'S not just one or two federations. In what could be a rare occasion, the Delhi High Court has asked the sports ministry to not extend monetary grant of any form until the National Sports Federations (NSFs) adhere to the sports code. Also, notice of suspensions have been served to all errant NSFs. According to the ministry, it had recognised 46 NSFs (as of May 2022). CONTINUED ON: P17

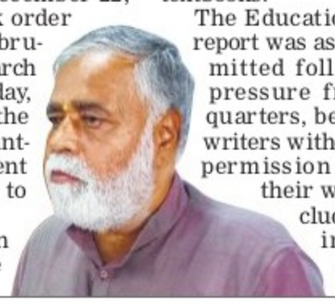
CM: Open to re-revising textbooks

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE state government is open to revising content pertaining to Basavanna in social science textbook of class 9 to ensure no sentiments are hurt, Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai said in a press note issued late Friday night after a meeting following Minister for Primary & Secondary Education B C Nagesh submitting the report on revision of textbooks.

This throws open the possibility of some textbooks getting 're-revised', which could further impact the schools.

Nagesh in his report pointed out that the tenders for printing the newly revised textbooks were called on December 22, 2021 and the work order was issued on February 18, 2022 and March 5, 2022. As of Friday, 79.70 per cent of the textbooks were printed and 66.98 per cent were distributed to the schools.



But no decision was taken at the Friday evening meeting as to what happens in case a 're-revision' does take place, which is sure to stop the printing and distribution of the remaining textbooks.

The Education Minister's report was asked to be submitted following much pressure from various quarters, besides several writers withdrawing their permission for parts of their works to be included as content in the revised textbooks. P4

Search for dry spot at Rly Station

BENGALURU: Passengers with luggage at KSR railway station were trying to move to drier areas as the roof of the island platform connecting 5 and 6 was leaking following a sudden spell of heavy rain on Friday evening and water stagnated on the floor of the platform. Journalist Alvin Mendonca put out a video of the pathetic situtation at the platform and tweeted, "Condition of KSR rly station after today's rain. No roof to stay". The 21-second clip showed public carrying their bags in their hands or placing them on the benches. Responding to it, bureaucrat Rajeev Kumar said, "Wow! free shower! Get your own soap and shampoo!" A person who went by the handle Poppy David, retorted sarcastically, "Just wow!" Chief Public Relations Officer, SWR, Aneesh Hegde said, "The inconvenience is regretted. The authorities concerned have taken cognizance. It will be rectified and we will ensure it does not recur." — S LALITHA

The child-friendly space with drawing books and toys

Safe space for kids at Yesvantpur stn

BENGALURU: Getting a fillip from the first child-friendly space inaugurated at KSR railway station around two months ago, the Railway Protection Force (RPF) on Friday launched the second space for South Western Railway at Yesvantpur railway station. 'Khushi Hub' has come up across 400 sq ft on platform 1 of the station near the RPF outpost. "This space is mainly intended to counsel children who have run away from home, are being trafficked or are lost. It is manned 24x7 by RPF personnel apart from Child Line and other NGOs. Its objective is to create a positive environment for children and make them feel safe. This makes them feel confident to voice their problems. They are later handed over to the Child Welfare Committee," a top RPF cop said. The first space launched in KSR station has so far been used to counsel nearly 100 children. Books, toys, chairs and tables are provided here apart from facilities like toilets and pantry.

GOVT TO INVITE GLOBAL TENDER FOR TWIN TOWER

Depts can be housed in one place: Minister

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

PUBLIC Works Department (PWD) Minister C C Patil has said that the state government is planning to call a global tender for the construction of a proposed 50-storey twin tower for government offices near Anand Rao Circle flyover in Bengaluru.

He said the government is keen to call a global tender to take up the mega project as it will ensure transparency and quality. "The terms and conditions for this will be decided after consulting the Chief Minister. At present, we are busy with the MLC and Rajya Sabha elections. We will take it up after the polls," he said.

The project was put on the backburner for various reasons including the Covid-19 pandemic and financial constraints. There was also a proposal to construct one tower first and the second one after some time. However, the Cabinet approved to take up the twin-tower work under Public Private Partnership at a meeting held a few weeks ago.

Minister Patil says he wants the project to be a major landmark of Bengaluru as it will come up in the heart of the city - Majestic area. "We want to make it happen at the earliest. We can house all government department offices in one place. This will also save rent," he added.

When B.S. Yediyurappa was the chief minister, the cabinet had approved the ambitious project in December 2020. The cost estimation was Rs 1,250 crore. It was proposed to have 25 meeting halls and accommodate 60 per cent of state government departments, Central government departments and Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) offices. The plan was to connect the building to nearby Kempegowda Metro Station, with a pathway to Vidhana Soudha via Race Course. The National Buildings Construction Corporation was to prepare a detailed project report.

> The terms and conditions for this will be decided after consulting the Chief Minister. At present, we are busy with the MLC and Rajya Sabha elections. We will take it up after the polls
> C C Patil, PWD Minister

A senior engineer from the PWD however told The New Indian Express that there is hardly any progress on this. "We do not know anything about the project as there are no meetings," he said on condition of anonymity.

11 HIGH-RISES NEAR JAKKUR AERODROME GET NOTICE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

ELEVEN high-rise buildings on Friday got notices from Government Flying Training School, Jakkur Aerodrome, in Yelahanka, over safety issues.

The school said the high-rise building pose a risk to flights, and allege that no NOCs were obtained from the institution by the building owners.

It is alleged that the builders violated BBMP rules and reportedly altered building plans, and put up extra floors.

DS Max Apartment, Century Real Estate Holdings, Legacy Global Project Private Limited, SNR Orchid Gardenia Apartment, Hoysala Project Private and other buildings lying in the 5-km radius of Yelahanka Airforce zone were reportedly given notices.

Though the training school was given permission in 2015, many high-rise apartments came up here as early as 2002. Concerned residents are now contemplating approaching Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai to seek his intervention.

Special Commissioner, BBMP Revenue Department, RL Deepak confirmed this. "Since the projects have come up in the developmental zone (flying area), steps are being taken," he said, adding that for the safety of flights, a 5-km radius area will be certified as 'no flying zone' and buildings will not be allowed to rise above the permitted height. While 11 buildings have been given notices, there is no reply yet.

In the four circles of Bengaluru Urban district, Bescom staff is working to remove the OFC. Under the special drive, Bescom officials have removed 1,46,281m OFC, 87,665m Dish cable, 87,007m internet data cable and 928 hazardous electrical items by end of May 2022, said ML Nagaraj, Chief General Manager (operations). Bescom officials have been authorised to lodge complaints against private service operators for repeated offence of laying cables on electric poles.

Transport fee paid but e-mode for Classes 11, 12

DONNA EVA @ Bengaluru

WITH schools resuming physical classes after two years, a Bengaluru school has postponed that date of offline classes for Classes 11 and 12 students after the school authorities allegedly made parents pay the transport cost of the entire year, which had increased since the previous year.

Several parents of students from the Delhi Public School, Bengaluru East, have complained the school has gone back on its word to restart offline classes just a day before it was scheduled to commence. "Offline classes were to begin on June 1, and the school had conducted orientation sessions and taken other measures to prepare students for offline learning again. They had kept this until May 31, when they released a notice saying online classes would be conducted," the parent of a Class 12 student told TNIE.

The school had switched from asking parents to pay transport fees in installments to making them pay the whole amount, which is around Rs 40,000 for April, ahead of the school year. Earlier the fee was Rs 30,000. According to the notice sent on May 31, students of all other Classes are attending physical classes. However, offline classes for only Classes 11 and 12 were postponed due to a shortage of drivers. "If there's a problem with transportation, they should stop offline classes for the lower classes so that students of Classes 11 and 12 can take offline classes," a parent of Class 11 student told TNIE.

"We had paid the fees in April. The school had the list of students as well as the parents who had paid the fees and yet they say they have some management problem," another parent told TNIE. The issue of postponing classes so late has especially irked parents. While the notification says offline classes will resume soon, no date has been mentioned and the parents are unable to reach the school officials. There was no response from the school officials after repeated attempts to contact them by TNIE.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

04th June : Today is crowded with planetary patterns. One which jumps out at me is the approaching Pluto alignment - which means that if we look at those planets - (with a very powerful telescope!) - we may get an intuitive insight into their meaning. According to traditional lore that's a positive relationship - and one which augers well for everyone who wants to get closer to the truth.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
Income and personal finances are now due to become much more important. It may be only that you now have to write a few large cheques. Today, by the way, you may also get your own way at home, even though you have to be a little devious if you're to succeed!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
Events that come to light in an unusual manner may remind you that human beings are complex indeed. It is no use imagining that everyone does things just because they have nothing better to do! Sometimes they actually want to help you!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
There will be a number of occasions when you must bite your lip if you are to keep everyone on your side - and avoid giving any offence. But, then, you are perfectly within your rights to decide that now is the time to say what you think. If so, then prepare your words with care.

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
For some time now you have been feeling that the world is against you. I hope that you now see that things are improving. In spite of certain difficulties, Venus brings home the essential truth that you'll feel better if you smile: others will smile with you.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
You may well be wondering why so little mention has been made of home and family life this week. The reason is that it is only now that the planetary indicators are insisting on absolute and total change. It's all to do with the Sun and Moon, but that's another story!

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Everywhere you look, foreign countries, strange cultures or people from far away, seem to be playing the crucial role. You must recognise that all thoughts, proposals and decisions will be made on the basis of raw emotion. Reason doesn't come into it!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Beneficial changes are finally afoot, and you should realise that family members and spouses have a lot to offer in the current situation. A financial situation, though, is still precarious and requires delicate handling for some time yet, especially if you are to reach an amicable solution.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
A lot of people misunderstand you, something you're probably used to. Yet I don't think this is inevitable. Rather than trying to explain yourself, why don't you just try to fit in and show willing as far as someone else's pet project is concerned.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Take care that you don't become so engrossed in other people's wrangles that you forget certain essential tasks, one of which is to make sure that you are in the peak of health. Clean up your diet, for a start, if you haven't already done so. And then make sure you're taking the right sort of exercise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Now's your chance to prove how charming you are. This is a period rich with opportunities for self-indulgence and pleasure, so hold yourself back at your peril. The company of children and younger relatives should be fun and a cultural outing will be stimulating.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
It's true to say that you've suffered enough. Yet there is much that you can do to help yourself, and all the indications now are that you should make a break with the negative emotional patterns of the past and restore close contact with a family member.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Heed the call of inspired planets like Jupiter and Neptune and take your social responsibilities seriously. Do what you have promised to do and you'll feel much better - and more confident. It's also time for a fresh look at some out-moded opinions.

Former Prime Minister H D Deve Gowda on Friday took a dig at the Congress for continuing with its second candidate in the fray for the June 10 Rajya Sabha polls despite not having the required number of votes. He said leader of opposition in the Rajya Sabha Mallikarjuna Kharge had taken the initiative to field a consensus candidate of the JD(S) and the Congress as he was aware of the adverse effects

Party refuses to withdraw second candidate, claims it has 71 second preference votes

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

THE battle lines are clearly drawn for the contentious fourth MP seat, with the three major parties taking an aggressive stand to fight to the finish, although none has the requisite 45 votes to win. As things stand, it looks like the election is headed for a dramatic finish. The BJP, as the ruling party, has a slender edge, considering it holds the purse-strings of the state.

Interestingly, for the first time, arch rivals CLP leader Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar have determinedly united against senior party leader Mallikarjun Kharge on the issue of support to JDS candidate Kupendra Reddy. Kharge has even pitched for it with Congress President Sonia Gandhi, but since Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar turned down the proposal, the central leadership has backed them. The last day for withdrawal of nominations was Friday.

The Congress, on its part, has already issued a whip to MLAs to vote for its candidates. All parties are expected to issue a whip too, and although voting is by secret ballot, members have to show their votes to the party.

CLP leader Siddaramaiah, who is clear that the Congress should stand on its own strength, asked, "Why should we withdraw the second candidate?" Reminded by the media that the Congress does not have the required 45 seats, he asked, "You tell me who has the seats, BJP or JDS? We will win. The conscientious will vote for us."

Asked how many votes the Congress will get, he countered, "We will get the votes we need, we have 71 second preference votes. It is the high command's decision to field the second candidate, Mansoor Khan. We have fielded him in the belief that we will win."

With this, fears of cross-voting have increased. If the Congress is expecting cross-voting to bail it out, it could be expecting votes from five JDS candidates -- Kolar MLA Srinivas Gowda, Gubbi MLA Srinivas, G T Deve Gowda and other unhappy leaders. Last time, eight JDS leaders had cross-voted. The Congress, which has 69 MLAs, has been joined by independent Sharath Bache Gowda, and could be expecting support from H Nagesh, as Siddaramaiah claimed they have 71 MLAs. BJP has 120 MLAs and is depending on two Independent MLAs, Mahesh and Nagesh. JDS has 32 votes, but whether it can retain the votes for the June 10 poll, is the big question.

CONGRESS '23 BLUEPRINT

Minorities, quotas, price rise

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CONGRESS, which put up a united front during the two-day 'Nava Sankalpa Shibira', will compile the suggestions from the brainstorming sessions and formulate a Karnataka Declaration, a blueprint of the party's agenda for the 2023 Assembly polls.

The declaration, which will be announced in two days, will include the party's commitment to protection of minorities and job reservation for SC/STs and OBCs, even in the private sector, if the party comes to power.

Withdrawing the Kasturirangan report on the Western Ghats to safeguard the interests of farmers will also be part of the Congress declaration.

After the valedictory of the Shibira, KPCC president DK Shivakumar stressed that since Muslims and Christians are being "oppressed" under the BJP government, the Congress will stand by them. "We will get to work under a collective leadership and come back to power using the BJP government's failures as our weapon," he said.

Congress leaders DK Shivakumar, Siddaramaiah, Mallikarjun Kharge, MB Patil and others during a meeting the 'Nava Sankalpa Shibira' in Bengaluru on Friday

The party will rake up issues related to price rise, the state not repealing the "anti-farmer laws" despite the Centre withdrawing them and alleged corruption in the Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai-led BJP government. From August 9 to 15, the party will launch 'Padayatras' in all districts and conduct 'Nava Sankalpa Sshibira' in all district headquarters, Shivakumar said.

Providing 33 per cent reservation to women and appointing office-bearers from block level by giving representation based on the castes is also the party's priority.

Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah said the party will urge the Centre to continue the GST compensation, which is likely to be stopped after five years from June 30, 2022.

About 600 delegates in six groups held discussions for about 12-13 hours on various topics, including economics, health, education, women empowerment, social justice and others. Former deputy chief minister Dr G Parameshwara, former Union minister Rahman Khan and KPCC campaign committee chairman MB Patil were present.

Money, liquor, dinner... Council polls no different

K SHIVA KUMAR @Mysuru

THE June 13 elections to the Legislative Council, or the House of Elders, are like any other polls where money, liquor and dinner parties are being used to lure voters. However, there is a technological touch to how these illegalities are being carried out. Candidates are seeking GooglePay, PayTM or other digital wallet accounts of voters so that the money can be transferred to them directly.

This diminished poll process is ironic as this House is expected to have intellectuals, educated and personalities who have excelled in their respective fields as its members. The allurements and illegal methods being used to win the elections have reached a new low, observers said.

The amounts being transferred range from Rs 500 to Rs 2,000 and are couched as transport expenses for voters to reach their hometowns to exercise their franchise. Candidates are targeting especially young graduates, including the unemployed, students and those working in the private sector.

The contestants are also using social media platforms to upload video and audio messages. It is alleged that one of the independent candidates has promised insurance cover for voters.

Over the last two weeks, lavish dinner and cocktail parties are being thrown for voters, even at district and taluk centers as the voters are spread across Mysuru, Mandya, Hassan, and Chamarajanagar districts. Of the 1.33 electorate, Mysuru has the highest number of voters at 54,039, Mandya 44,370, Hassan 23,038 and Chamarajanagar 11,626.

Candidates are spending large amounts of money as there is no limit on expenses in the Council polls. Like big party candidates, independents too have come out with manifestos, promising honorarium to unemployed graduates, regularisation of guest faculty and recruitment of teachers.

BSP candidate Channakeshava Murthy alleged big parties are luring voters by hosting dinners and cocktail parties. Though concerns have been raised over use of money and digital transfers, no cases have been registered and measures taken to contain such illegalities.

Murthy said the authorities should conduct a suo motu investigation and register police cases against the guilty.

Banner banning non-Hindus flayed

ENS @ Mangaluru

THE Dakshina Kannada district police issued a notice to panchayat officials after a board put up near a temple restricting autorickshaws and other vehicles driven by non-Hindus in Belthangady taluk of Dakshina Kannada district came under criticism.

Residents said the board was erected near the Southadka Mahaganapathi temple on Friday. Dakshina Kannada Superintendent of Police Rishikesh Sonawane told TNIE that no official complaint has been registered so far. "The local police may have asked the panchayat authorities to find out if the board was erected by the temple authorities in their property and whether they have taken required permission from the local administration. The panchayat development officer (PDO) has been asked to respond and the local administration will decide on removing it and taking action," he said. Temple authorities clarified that they did not put up the banner.

The board, which mentions the names of VHP, Bajrang Dal and Hindu Jagrana Vedike Kokkada, states, "Non-Hindus are misusing the Hindu devotees for love jihad in holy place of Southadka. Autorickshaws and taxis of non-Hindus are not allowed to enter."

Govt trying to convince writers not to withdraw their content

SRI Panditharadhya Swamiji of Sri Mutt, Sanehalli and a few other pontiffs had raised objections related to revision on aspects in the content related to Basaveshwara, the 12th-century social reformer, in the textbooks.

Bommai said they are open to revise the lately revised content on Basavanna in a manner which does not hurt anybody's sentiments.

However, there was also no decision announced after the Friday evening meeting on how the state government plans to proceed on the writers' protest leading to them withdrawing permission for their content to be included in the Chakrathirtha committee-revised textbooks.

Minister Nagesh reportedly informed the Chief Minister that he has written a letter to litterateur Devanur Mahadeva, who is among the writers withdrawing the permission to include their content in the revised textbooks, to convince him to reverse his decision. Nagesh indicated that he is considering writing to the other writers as well. Among the other writers are G Ramakrishna, SG Siddaramaiah, Bolwar Mohhamed Kunhi, Mudnakudu Chinnaswamy, Veerappa M Kambali and Sarjoo Katkar.

PROBE ORDERED

Based on the concerns expressed by Adichunchanagiri seer Sri Nirmalananda Swamiji and others, the state has ordered a probe through cyber police of Bengaluru, to find the culprits who changed the Naada Geethe in an objectionable manner in 2017 (which was reportedly re-posted in social media by text book revision committee chairperson Rohit Chakrathirtha). Education Minister Nagesh informed the CM that there was already a police probe conducted and a 'B' report was submitted to the court.

75th b'day event to project Siddu as CM face

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

FORMER chief minister Siddaramaiah, the man credited with uniting the Ahinda (Kannada acronym for minorities, backward classes and Dalits) vote and bringing the BJP government to its knees over the iron ore mining scam, will have a dedicated 'Siddaramotsava' convention when he turns 75 on August 12.

His followers are planning a three-day mega convention in Davanagere to celebrate the milestone. The celebration comes at a time when a cold war is brewing between Siddaramaiah and KPCC president DK Shivakumar over the chief ministerial candidate. The event is seen as political muscle-flexing ahead of the 2023 Assembly polls.

Before joining Congress, Siddaramaiah held Ahinda conventions in 2005-06. The movement played an important role in his political career and he later became chief minister with full majority in 2013.

A senior leader, requesting anonymity, said around 10 lakh people are expected to take part in the celebration. "Siddaramaiah was one of the few chief ministers to complete the full five-year term. He launched many pro-people schemes, including Anna Bhagya and Indira Canteen. Several experts will talk about such achievements of Siddaramaiah at the event," the leader said.

A book on his achievements is also expected to be released. Many senior central leaders are likely to take part. The organisers are also planning to invite senior BJP leader BS Yediyurappa. Incidentally, Siddaramaiah was the only leader from Congress to take part in the birthday celebrations of Yediyurappa two years ago when the latter was the chief minister.

While sources said it is an attempt to project Siddaramaiah as the chief ministerial candidate, it may not go down well with Shivakumar. HC Mahadevappa, a close associate of Siddaramaiah, said that the issue has not been discussed formally in party forums. "We still have time for the celebrations as his birthday falls in August," he said. Not revealing any further information, he said the party leaders are now busy with the Council and Rajya Sabha polls.

Siddaramaiah, who lost the Assembly elections in 2018 at his home constituency Chamundeshwari in Mysuru, had won from Badami in Bagalkot.

Siddu warns of 'chaddi burning' stir across state

BENGALURU: Continuing his tirade against the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS), Leader of Opposition Siddaramaiah warned that Congress will launch a "chaddi burning" demonstration across the state if action is not taken against BJP workers, who allegedly assaulted NSUI members outside Education Minister BC Nagesh's house in Tiptur, Tumakuru, recently. Siddaramaiah said the police action against NSUI workers was unwarranted as the protestors did not attempt to set fire to the house.

BJP eyes Seetharam, Cong gives his son IYC post

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI @Bengaluru

TO placate former minister MR Seetharam after being denied an MLC nomination, Congress on Friday appointed his son Raksha Ramaiah as general secretary of the Indian Youth Congress (IYC).

The BJP had hoped to take Seetharam into its fold and Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar had held a round of talks, promising the former the Chikkaballapura Lok Sabha seat in the 2024 parliamentary polls, sources said.

Adding to the rumour mill was the absence of the father-son duo at the Congress' two-day 'Nava Sankalpa Shibira'.

Perhaps sensing the adverse impact that the quitting of a leader, with an illustrious family background, have on the party ahead of the Assembly polls, AICC general secretary Randeep Singh Surjewala acted swiftly through IYC president BV Srinivas and appointed Raksha to the post.

Seetharam is a familiar face in Bengaluru with his father, late MS Ramaiah, building a large number of educational institutions. He hails from the Balija community, which has a considerable population in Chikkaballapura district.

The BJP had planned that if Seetharam jumped ship, a combination of him and Sudhakar, a Vokkaliga, could work for the party in the 2024 polls.

Now, with Raksha's appointment, Congress may have managed to pacify Seetharam to stay in the party.

Sacked woman gets job after campaign by netizens

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Belagavi

FOLLOWING an intense campaign on social media by netizens outraged at the removal of a woman worker at Suvarna Vidhana Soudha for drying rice fritters at the entrance of the structure, the government on Friday decided not only to reinstate her, but also allot her a site.

Several photos of rice fritters kept for drying by the woman, who was employed by a private contractor, in charge of maintenance of the Soudha, had gone viral on various social sites over the past few days. But the viral post put the government machinery in a dilemma, and authorities immediately issued a notice to the PWD executive engineer and got the woman worker removed from the job on Wednesday.

Belagavi Deputy Commissioner Nitesh Patil also rushed to the Soudha on Wednesday and reviewed all the facilities there. He held talks with the contractors and workers asking them to strictly follow the guidelines on Soudha's maintenance.

He directed the security personnel at the soudha to strictly verify the identity cards of all those entering the administrative building.

According to sources, Patil has now directed the contractor concerned to allow the woman to resume her job from Saturday. The DC also promised to allot her a site at Bastwad village and help her construct a house.

CM suggests health division for Bengaluru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai, who chaired a meeting to review implementation of budget programmes of the health and family welfare department, suggested to officials to constitute a Bengaluru city health services division.

"Bengaluru city is growing at a rapid pace, and the health department must keep pace and upgrade healthcare services and management," Bommai said. He also suggested that 200 Namma Clinics must be started in Bengaluru and another 238 of them in taluks. Sanitary pads which would be distributed under the 'Shuchi scheme' must be bought from NGOs, he added.

He suggested that they take up mental health programmes in Dharwad, Haveri and Gadag in association with Dimhans, on the lines of programmes being implemented in Bengaluru, Kolar and Chikkaballarpur, in association with Nimhans.

Focus on resource mobilisation, CM tells transport corporations

Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Friday directed the officers of state road transport corporations to focus more on resource mobilisation, through not just fleet operations, but from other sources too. The CM, who held a meeting of senior officers from the Transport Department, asked them to provide good amenities and infrastructure for passengers along the state highways. He appreciated the tax mobilisation in the department for 2021-22, which was 103 per cent of the target.

Covid cases see uptick, but third vax not popular

Only 6.74% of Bengalureans have taken precautionary dose; BBMP amps up drive

SHILPA P @Bengaluru:

AT 2,091 active Covid-19 cases, Bengaluru has the second highest number of cases after Mumbai in the country, and reported a high of 276 Covid cases on Thursday. Despite these growing numbers, only 6.74 per cent of Bengalureans (6,18,698) have taken the precautionary dose of Covid vaccination.

Among those who have taken the second dose, only 1.83 per cent of those between 18 and 59 years of age, 34.42 per cent of those above 60 years, 37.93 per cent health workers, and 22.02 per cent frontline workers have taken the precautionary dose. With cases going up in Bengaluru, BBMP health officials are on high alert.

BBMP Special Commissioner (Health) Dr Trilok Chandra told TNIE that since the precautionary dose for those between 18 and 59 years is not a free service, the inclination to take it is low. However, BBMP has intensified information, education and communication through phone calls and messages to persons eligible for the precautionary dose, and also requested private hospitals to educate those between 18 and 59 years of age.

School-based vaccination drives for those below 18 years, door-to-door drives for vaccination of precautionary dose for those above 60 years of age and second dose among those below 18 years have also been intensified, he said.

BBMP is carrying out over 14,000 tests every day, focusing on targeted testing, and those with symptoms of ILI and SARI, Dr Chandra said.

Five clusters in Mahadevapura zone and one in Rajarajeshwarinagar have been identified in Bengaluru. After the high daily positivity rate of 2.8 per cent reported on May 21, daily positivity rate of 2.1 per cent was reported on June 2 in Bengaluru.

Asked about a 12-year-old child having a travel history to Bengaluru, dying in Kerala due to H1N1, Dr Trilok Chandra said BBMP is already alert about cases with ILI and SARI symptoms, which may indicate H1N1 too.

HC no to quashing criminal proceedings in bigamy case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

A 77-year-old man with three wives will have to continue facing criminal proceedings over bigamy initiated by his first wife, who he is married to for 54 years, after the Karnataka High Court declined to quash the proceedings on the grounds of delay, and citing it as "continuing offence".

The now-septuagenarian man, Anand C aka Anku Gowda, a businessman, married Chandramma (70), on May 2, 1968. In 1972-73, he married Chandramma's sister with the former's consent. He then tied the knot for the third time in 1993 with a woman named Varalakshmi with the consent of his first two wives.

However, Chandramma filed a private complaint before the trial court at Channapatna in early 2018 under Sections 494 of the Indian Penal Code for bigamy. Summons were issued to Gowda and Varalakshmi on February 8, 2021, after taking cognisance of the offences.

Besides, a dispute with regard to distribution of properties was raked up by registering the private complaint.

Noting that bigamy is a "continuing offence" and distinguishable from the one committed once and for all, Justice M Nagaprasanna dismissed the petition filed by Gowda and Varalakshmi which questioned the private complaint and sought quashing the criminal proceedings against them.

The court said the third marriage of the petitioner (Gowda) was admitted even in the petition. Therefore, the petitioner has admitted that he has contracted three marriages. "If admitted facts are taken note of, it cannot be in doubt that the petitioner has contracted the second and even the third marriage during the subsistence of the first marriage with the complainant ... no further interpretation need be given, as even today, the petitioner admits that he is the husband of three women. Therefore, he is in the web of the offence punishable for bigamy. The proceedings against him and his third wife cannot be quashed as the offence is admitted by him," the court said.

Retd SP's son, colleague die after sports bike hits tree

ENS @ Bengaluru

THE son of a retired police officer, and his colleague died in a road accident at Heggondanahalli in Sarjapur police station limits, on the outskirts of the city. The incident is said to have happened around 2.30am Friday.

The youngster, riding a Ducati, is alleged to have lost control as he was overspeeding and rammed a roadside tree. The impact of the accident was so severe that his face was completely disfigured. His colleague, who was riding pillion, was rushed to a nearby hospital, where she reportedly succumbed to injuries.

The Sarjapur police identified him as G Gagandeep, 29, a resident of Marathahalli, and the son of Guruprasad, retired SP of the Central Bureau of Investigation. His colleague was D Yashaswini, 23, a resident of Whitefield. While Gagandeep was working as marketing manager, Yashaswini was marketing executive with a prestigious real estate firm.

"Helmets were found at the accident spot. There was no trace of alcohol consumption. Overspeeding is suspected to be the reason behind the accident. The rider must have lost control of the sports bike and rammed the tree," said an officer.

Youth murders mom for not buying phone

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

UPSET for not buying him a mobile phone, a 26-year-old youth allegedly murdered his 45-year-old mother in Begur police station limits.

The police have arrested the accused, identified as Deepak. The deceased is identified as Fathima Mary, a resident of Lookas Layout in Mailasandra.

Police said Mary was making a living by plucking leafy vegetables from the surrounding lands and selling them while her son assisted her. On Wednesday, she left home telling her daughter that she was going near NICE Road and asked her to send her father and son after they woke up. Accordingly, she asked Deepak to go near the NICE Road. Around 2 pm, Deepal contacted his father over the phone belonging to a passerby and informed him that his mother was found dead near the NICE Road.

"The miscreants had strangulated her to death using her saree and a murder case was registered. After an inquiry, it was found that Deepak had murdered his mother. When interrogated, he revealed that he was asking his mother to buy him a mobile phone, but she had not," the police added.

4 Rohingyas held for theft at Rail Wheel Factory

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

The Railway Protection Force attached to the Rail Wheel Factory at Yelahanka nabbed four people in connection with the theft of items from inside a transformer on its premises. The four are said to be Rohingyas residing in Bengaluru. Rohingyas are an ethnic group hailing from Myanmar.

On May 10, the RPF found that copper wire running to a length of 1,400 metres was stolen from a transformer from the guarded premises of RWF, which has CCTV too. A total of 20,000 litres of oil had been drained out from inside the chamber too. South Western Railway was using that portion of land to carry out construction activity in connection with its electrification.

A highly-placed source told TNIE, "After sustained efforts, cops narrowed down on the Rohingyas. On interrogation, it was understood that the four were involved in similar thefts across the country. One of them was living in Kashmir before relocating. Details of the rest are not known."

The RWF was given custody for a week. "They carried out the required interrogation and produced the culprits at the Special Economic Offences Court. They were remanded to judicial custody a couple of days ago," he added.

Cops at Yelahanka New Town police station, where a case was registered, said investigations were being done by the RPF, who have also filed a case. "We will be closing the case and allowing RPF to go ahead with it. We cannot have two FIRs registered in connection with one theft case," said a cop here. "It is not clear when the theft actually took place, but it came to light in the factory only last month," he added.

RWF officials said they did not have any information about the investigations. The IG of RPF refused to answer calls or messages from this reporter in connection with the arrests.

Three minors, 2 others held for Hyd gang-rape

Accused unknown to victim, says DCP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Hyderabad

EVEN as Hyderabad was rocked by protests over the gang-rape of a 17-year-old girl in an Innova car on May 28 after a pub party, the West Zone police on Friday firmly ruled out the involvement of Telangana Home Minister Mahmood Ali's grandson in the incident.

Police detain a BJP activist during a protest in Hyderabad demanding the arrest of four youngsters | EXPRESS

West Zone DCP Joel Davis said five accused had been taken into custody including two majors and three other minor boys. However, he did state that the son of an MIM leader was involved in the crime refusing to name the leader saying his son was a minor. DCP said the victim was not in a position to identify the accused because they were not known to her.

Police ruled out that either the victim or the accused had consumed alcohol. The girl was first taken in a red Mercedes from the pub by the five youngsters. The group then switched to an Innova car where the assault took place, said the DCP.

The issue came to light after the victim's father filed a case with the Jubilee Hills on police on May 31 saying his minor daughter was molested by unidentified youngsters after partying with roughly 50 of her friends at Insomnia & Amnesia, a pub popular with the city's glitterati, on Saturday, May 28. Meanwhile, the police altered the case to a gangrape case based on the victim's statement, even as rumours abound that one of the boys involved in the incident is the son of an MLA and another the son of a senior functionary of the Waqf Board.

Sources close to the DCP said that the victim herself remains in shock. She has been sent for examination at the Bharosa centre and is being counselled. More names are likely to come out, sources said. It is also learnt that five of the girl's friends have been named in the complaint, but it is not clear whether they have been listed as witnesses or accused.

Meanwhile, CCTV footage showing the victim with the boys outside the pub has gone viral. Police have secured the footage and are also in the process of gathering footage from cameras going to and from the pub where the victim and her friends had partied.

Uma Thomas greets elated party workers after her thumping victory in the Thrikkakara by-election on Friday | TP SOORAJ

Twenty20 decision works in Congress' favour

A big factor that aided the Congress is the decision by Twenty20 not to contest in the by-election. Twenty20 had urged its supporters to cast their vote as per their "conscience". "We have not asked our supporters whom to vote for. But, it seems that they knew what to do," said Sabu Jacob, chief coordinator of Twenty20.

Team Pinarayi clean bowled at 99 by Uma's reverse swing

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Kochi

DASHING the ruling LDF front's hopes to 'score a century' in the Kerala Assembly, UDF candidate Uma Thomas registered a spectacular win in the high-pitched Thrikkakara bypoll, defeating CPM's Dr Jo Joseph by a record 25,016 votes.

The win at its bastion - UDF has never lost in Thrikkakara since the formation of the constituency in 2011 - also provides the Congress in the state with new-found energy after its drubbing in the 2021 assembly polls. For the LDF, the loss is a setback for its ambitious SilverLine Rail project, and the massive campaigning unleashed through CM Pinarayi Vijayan and his entire cabinet, and the alliance leaders over the last three weeks.

The margin of victory by Uma, the wife of Congress leader Late PT Thomas whose demised in December necessitated the bypoll, is the highest in the constituency, beating Benny Behnan's 22,313 vote margin in the 2011 assembly elections. Uma's margin is also higher than what her late husband received in the 2021 elections at 14,329 votes. BJP has also lost the deposit.

"This is a recognition for the hard work done by our workers. This is just the beginning of the party's revival. We have to build on from here," said opposition leader VD Satheesan, who took charge after the Congress drubbing in the 2021 assembly elections.

While KPCC chief K Sudhakaran said the Vijayan should quit following the loss in Thrikkakara, ex-CM AK Antony said the people have given a "shock treatment" to the CM.

US woos rich Indians with EB-5 investor prog

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Invest In the USA (IIUSA) on Friday made a pitch to wealthier Indians to make use of the EB-5 investor program to invest in commercial enterprise in the USA, which also offers a quicker way to get citizenship in that country.

Addressing the media ongoing series of EB-5 programme roadshows across India, Aaron Grau, Executive Director, IIUSA, said, "EB-5 programme affords foreign nationals and their spouses and unmarried children under age 21 the ability to obtain a US visa based upon a minimum investment in an economic development enterprise that creates or retains a specified number of jobs. The US EB-5 Immigrant Investor Programme requires that a foreign individual invests in a new commercial enterprise that is associated with government-approved regional centres based on proposals for promoting economic growth."

The EB-5 program requires $1 million for a standard — which is a non-Targeted Employment Area (TEA) investment — and $500,000 for a TEA investment by those seeking Green Card, or permanent residency status in the USA.

According to the latest findings by IIUSA, the demand for EB-5 programme in India increased by 400 per cent between 2016 and 2019. Additionally, Indian nationals held the most number of EB-5 immigrant investor applications in the October-December and April-June quarters for the fiscal year 2019.

"The E-B5 programme is truly an economic development which will help in creating jobs for Indian workers," Grau said.

In March 2022, US President Joe Biden signed a law that includes EB-5 Immigrant Investor Regional Centre Programme and various implementation effective dates for it, which will be in effect till September 30, 2027.

The programme is reviewed by the US Citizenship & Immigration Services (USCIS). IIUSA in partnership with PHD Chamber of Commerce and Industry is holding a series of EB-5 passport visa educational events in India for cohesive knowledge-building sessions about the US investment/EB-5 immigration process, project due diligence, and financial & tax planning in Delhi, Mumbai, Hyderabad, and Bengaluru over May and June.

BJD crushes opposition in Brajrajnagar by-election

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bhubaneswar

THE ruling BJD on Friday inflicted a crushing blow to the opposition BJP and Congress by retaining the Brajrajnagar assembly seat in the bypoll with a huge margin of more than 66,000 votes.

While BJD candidate Alaka Mohanty secured 93,953 votes, Congress nominee Kishore Chandra Patel polled 27,831 votes and finished a distant second. BJP candidate Radharani Panda came third with 22,630 votes.

The defeat is flummoxing as the BJP candidate Panda had won the Assembly seat in the 2014 polls but was defeated in the 2019 General Elections by only 12,000 votes in a close contest.

BJD leaders maintained that the record win was a result of hard work, planning and its execution for nearly a month ahead of other political parties. The constituency saw a string of 10 ministers and 30 MLAs, with the party deciding to multiply the target five times.

Besides the solid base of health and family welfare minister Naba Kishore Das in the area, campaign by SHG members made a massive contribution to the victory. Sympathy factor in favour of BJD candidate Alaka Mohanty played a role too.

The bypoll victory following the record-breaking performance in the panchayat and urban local body elections has come as a huge boost for the party ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls.

For Congress, despite the disarry and factionalism, they have managed to find a place above BJP.

Congress and BJP, however, attributed the massive victory of BJD to misuse of official machinery and money power by the ruling party. The Congress could not match the use of money by the BJD, Patel said.

Include climate education in syllabus: Activists

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH education returning to some semblance of normalcy, torch-bearers of climate change and citizen activists have demanded that climate education be imparted to students, apart from environmental sciences. Sampreetha S Kumar, from Fridays for Future, Global International Movement for Climate Justice, Karnataka Chapter, told TNIE that the government should work on including climate education as part of the curriculum for children, especially in grades 6-10.

Speaking on the sidelines of the three-day long festival on Future City Bengaluru, organised by Jhatkaa.org, Sampreetha said: "A lot of our textbooks teach us air and water pollution, but not climate change as a problem, the solutions, goals and what needs to be done to combat it. Alternate sources of energy, sustainable developmental goals, important research works, Paris agreement and others should be imparted in theory and practicals." Ishan Agarwal, from Indian Climate Action, said there was a need for a paradigm shift to create better spaces for education, and a habitat for better cultural solutions.

Hijab row: Student files counter-plaint

Mangaluru: A B.Com student of Uppinangady College on Friday filed a counter-complaint against three journalists for abusing students at the college, in Dakshina Kannada district. According to the complainant, Ajith Kumar, Praveen Kumar and Siddiq Neeraje illegally entered the college, and Ajith questioned why Muslims were in the village and "why can't they go to mosque". The complainant also alleged that the accused tried to pull a girl's shawl, while Praveen said, "she is Muslim, pull her shawl".

RPF inspector shunted out to North East zone for brutal behaviour

EXPRESS IMPACT

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru:

FOLLOWING a news report by The New Indian Express in its edition dated March 30, 2022, of the brutality of drunk Railway Protection Force (RPF) inspector Aboo Ramachandran beating up an elderly vendor, Ninganna, inside the police station in Mandya railway station, the Railway Board recently transferred him to North East Frontier Railway Zone. There was an attempt to hush up the incident at various levels.

"Ramachandran has not been posted in any specific RPF station, but has been sent out of South Western Railway Zone due to his criminal behaviour. The transfer to North East is akin to a punishment posting," said a source. This follows an inquiry report submitted by the RPF which found him guilty of the brutality. Ramachandran was issued a major penalty chargesheet, done only in the case of grave offences.

It has also been learnt through sources in Mandya that even as the inquiry was on, the tainted RPF inspector invited Ninganna to a hotel near the station. "In the presence of villagers and a couple of RPF cops, Ramachandran handed over a sum of Rs 4 lakh to the victim. He also made him swear using betel leaf and milk that he would never discuss the matter of being beaten up to anyone in future, which is a serious custom followed in rural areas," a source said.

Four onion vendors run over on NH-218

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bagalkot

FOUR onion merchants were killed on the spot after they were allegedly knocked down by an unidentified vehicle on National Highway-218 near Badagandi village near Bilagi on Thursday midnight.

The deceased are identified as Mahadeva Kurigar and Razzak Sabh Jambagi both from Govinadani village and Malappa Malali and Naseer Ahmed Mulla of Bilagi town. They were aged between 38 and 40 years and are survived by their wives and children.

The tragedy struck when the victims, were fixing the flat tyre of an onion laden lorry, as one of the tyres got punctured enroute Maharashtra. The impact of the accident was such that all the four succumbed to their injuries on the spot.

According to the police, "These deceased were heading to Maharashtra. When one of the tyres got punctured in the outskirts of Badagandi village on NH-218 (Hubballi-Solapur) they were fixing it on the highway itself, when an unknown vehicle hit them."

"The vehicle has been seized. The bodies have been handed over to the family after autopsy," stated police. According to sources, "Among the total deceased, three were the sole bread winners for respective families." Minister for Large and Medium Scale Industries Murugesh Nirani who represents Bilagi Assembly segment, expressed his condolences.

He also assured of working on providing compensation to the next of kin of the deceased from the government.

A case has been registered at Bilagi Police Station.

SIXTEEN people who sustained injuries, of whom three are serious, have been admitted to United and Basaveshwara Hospitals in Kalaburagi. Some of the passengers managed to jump out of the bus to safety, while some others were rescued by passersby.

In all, a 37-member group, including two drivers and a conductor, left for Goa from Secunderabad on May 28 in the bus. On their return journey, they left Goa on Thursday at 8.30 pm. When this correspondent visited the spot at 9 am on Friday, the accident spot was filled with smoke, making it difficult for the police and fire personnel to retrieve the bus and the bodies.

At 11.30 am, two cranes were pressed into service and it took about half an hour to lift the mangled remains of the bus. Forensic experts who examined the mortal remains of the deceased have sent the viscera for DNA test to ascertain their identities. While both the drivers of the bus are safe, the driver of the goods vehicle suffered fractures. Some passengers said they had warned the driver twice in the night against rash driving but he did not pay heed to them. Police said 28 seats had been booked in the name of one Arjun. The bus was expected to reach Secunderabad on Friday morning at 10 am.

Cheers! Beer sales up 114% in April-May

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

BEER sales in Karnataka have made a whopping comeback after the pandemic which had adversely impacted the Food & Beverage (F&B) industry.

According to State Excise, beer sales for April-May in the current fiscal (2022-'23) have registered a 114.53 per cent growth compared to the corresponding months in the previous financial year (FY) 2021-'22 whereas Indian Made Liquor (IML) has shown a 12.21 per cent growth in April-May this FY compared to the two months in previous fiscal.

The Excise Department in the last two months has collected Rs 4,678.66 crore revenue, registering a 16.13 per cent achievement over the unprecedented revenue target of Rs 29,000 crore for 2022-'23 compared to Rs 3,676.77 crore in April and May last year, which was 14.96 per cent achievement over Rs 24,580 crore revenue target for the previous fiscal.

Besides Bengaluru, North Karnataka especially has seen beer sales soaring. According to informed sources, sale of beer in Yadgir and Kalaburagi in North Karnataka and Mandya in South Karnataka is much higher than Indian Made Liquor (IML).

In Bengaluru alone, at least five new pubs and bars have opened in the last one month beating the pandemic blues. "Almost all outlets are running full occupancy. In the last two months liquor sales across all watering holes are much better than pre-Covid times," said owners of some prominent restaurant-cum-bars and microbreweries across the city.

However, the manpower shortage continues to trouble the F&B industry. "Those of us who could not pay our staff due to lockdown and loss in business are now reeling under staff shortage. Most of them who are from the north-east have not returned to work. The hotel management trainees, who have to compulsorily do industrial training as part of their course, are also being put on the job at various outlets to deal with the staff crunch," sources said.

PRESSURE MOUNTS ON CENTRE FOR CASTE CENSUS

Bihar chief minister Nitish Kumar has rolled the dice on a caste census. The BJP, his ally in the state government, has been dragging its feet on this issue. Kumar has forced his ally's hand, at least in Bihar. He called an all-party meeting earlier this week, where it was decided unanimously to carry out a caste-based census.

The last caste-based census was held by the British in 1931. Even the Mandal Commission, which gave reservation to OBCs, had taken caste figures from the 1931 Census. After Independence, the Census avoided caste enumeration. In 2018, Rajnath Singh had announced as the Union home minister that the government would count the OBCs in the 2021 Census. The decision is yet to be implemented.

The Congress-led UPA had in 2011 conducted an exercise that could be termed a caste census. The ministry of rural development then conducted a Socio-Economic Caste Census (SECC) 2011, through a comprehensive door-to-door enumeration across rural and urban India. The exercise was aimed at collecting information on social and economic indicators in order to better target the government's programmes and policies. The data collected through SECC 2011 has, however, not been made public in spite of repeated demand by caste-based parties. In a case filed in the apex court in 2021 by the government of Maharashtra, which was seeking full disclosure of raw data from the socio-economic caste census, the Centre opposed the plea saying that the SECC 2011 was found to be flawed and bound to mislead. The Maharashtra government also sought direction to the Centre to collect data on backward class citizens in the 2021 Census. The Centre opposed this too, saying it was "administratively difficult and cumbersome".

The BJP is now finding itself in a bind on caste enumeration. It would be difficult for it to take one stand in Bihar and another at the Centre. The 2021 Census was delayed due to Covid and is likely to begin soon. With electorally powerful Marathas, Patidars and Jats, besides many other OBCs, closely watching the BJP's moves, it would be difficult for the party to oppose a caste census for long.

POWER OF DEMOCRACY SEEN IN KERALA BYPOLL

The Thrikkakara Assembly bypoll was supposed to be captain Pinarayi Vijayan's century moment. Having won 99 out of 140 seats while recording its historic triumph in the 2021 Assembly polls, the CPM-led ruling LDF in Kerala was determined to reach the three-figure mark and this was a timely opportunity. That it wasn't to be is a message for political parties in general and the CPM in particular—never take people for granted. That said, the thumping victory of a hesitant Congress candidate Uma Thomas, by more than 25,000 votes, cannot be seen either as a referendum on the Pinarayi government or as a sign of the UDF's resurgence in the state. Those inferences must be kept for later. The outcome appears to be a manifestation of the overwhelming desire of voters to preserve and perpetuate the legacy of P T Thomas, whom they elected twice in the past, through his widow. And while the election remains as inconsequential as it ever was from a larger perspective, the result should come as a reality check for the government and contains a nudge for it go for introspection—especially taking a relook at the manner in which it's pushing the SilverLine project and addressing the desperate state of Kerala's finances.

For the record, Thrikkakara has always been a Congress stronghold. Since the first election in 2011 after the constituency was created, the UDF has consistently maintained an average vote share of around 50%. In contrast, the LDF's vote share has been around 35%. That the LDF chose to deploy all resources at its disposal despite this historical background showed the ruling combine's determination to wrest the seat for that magical 100 mark. An otherwise insignificant electoral battle was turned into a high-intensity contest by CM Vijayan, who camped in Thrikkakara and led the campaign from the front. All his ministers, MLAs and senior LDF leaders were also deployed. The intensive LDF campaign was disturbingly divisive at times. A church-run hospital was used to launch its candidate and all the caste-community combinations available within the front were used to lure the voters, with ministers making targeted home calls. That none of these worked is testimony to the power of democracy, where the only thing that matters is what the voters want.

If and when America stops sending in weapons and other aid, Ukrainians will not be able to survive the war. The US has done the same to other allies in the past

WHOSE WAR IS UKRAINE FIGHTING STILL?

N SATHIYA MOORTHY
Political analyst and commentator

SOUMYADIP SINHA

Days have turned into weeks and weeks into months, but there is no end in sight to the Russo-Ukraine war. Geostrategic analysts had once predicted that the war would end in a jiffy, with an outright victory for Moscow. However, that is not the case. It is considered a setback for Russian President Vladimir Putin, who the Western media now says is afflicted with cancer, eye problems, etc. You name the disease and soon Putin would have it.

Rather than espousing a sense of helplessness, as he did in the early days of the war, Ukraine leader Volodymyr Zelenskyy now seems to want to impress the world that he is here to put down Putin and Russia's 'neo-expansionism', post-Cold War, for the US to celebrate and his Western European neighbours to feel thankful for. But nothing on the ground indicates that Ukraine is on the winning streak.

There is no way of knowing if Zelenskyy thinks that Ukraine is another Afghanistan. However, Putin is certain that Ukraine cannot be allowed to become another Afghanistan if he has to survive in the Kremlin. That means he not only has to win this war, but has to win on his terms. There is no evidence yet to suggest that the latter would become a reality but there is nothing to predict that the former would not become one, either.

The war has come to a point where he who pays the piper calls the tune, which basically means Ukraine would and could fight a war that the US wants and only in ways the US wants. For instance, if and when America stops sending in weapons and other aid, Ukrainians will not be able to survive the war. The US has done the same to other allies in the past, and Zelenskyy should know and remember that.

For now, US President Joe Biden has said that they would supply more weapons to Ukraine, but not long-range missiles that could hit Russian territory. The message is meant for Zelenskyy as much as it is for Putin. Biden wants to tell Russia that the US did not intend expanding the war into anything more than what Putin wants and has been waging.

However, the message is also meant for the European allies of the US. Washington did not want to escalate the war beyond what Ukraine can manage, and what the Europeans did not want it to become. If left to themselves, Western Europe does not want this war, so close to their borders; they do not want it to escalate enough to consume them.

Western Europe has already lived its Boy Scout moment in the war when it joined the US in imposing more sanctions on Russia. But the UK is not Europe (or as it sees itself, post-Brexit). After the Second World War, the nation has been behaving more like an American satellite. What the Americans think, the Britons do.

Thus, British Prime Minister Boris Johnson referred to Putin's "barbaric invasion and senseless blockade" of the Black Sea in a telephonic talk with Ranil Wickremesinghe, the embattled prime minister of a crisis-hit Sri Lanka. Lest Wickremesinghe should hold back all of it—which he did—10 Downing Street had a read-out that referred to Johnson mentioning how Putin's war had also exacerbated "global food supply issues"—something that should frighten Sri Lanka further.

> After the Second World War, the UK has been behaving more like an American satellite. ... It is anybody's guess if Boris Johnson's call to Wickremesinghe was out of good intentions for Lankans, or for an embattled Ukraine, or both Johnson emphasised the need for the entire international community to take action against the "horrors Putin is inflicting on the Ukrainian people". But there is a possibility that he did not refer to his government's Paris Club discussions for assisting Sri Lanka—believing such aid was contingent upon Colombo falling in line with the West on Russian sanctions. Wickremesinghe's tweet on the talk did not make any references to Putin and the Ukraine war. It stopped with Johnson offering "support... especially in fields of tackling climate-change and assisting... with becoming an export-oriented open economy". What a time to talk climate change with Sri Lankans.

It is anybody's guess if Johnson's call to Wickremesinghe was out of good intentions for Lankans, or for an embattled Ukraine, or both. Was it because a $70-million worth of 90,000-tonne consignment of Russian crude had arrived in an oil-starved Lanka, with hopes of more in the pipeline? Some crude way it was, to force a poverty-stricken nation to fall in line.

You are now aware who all the Ukraine war can hurt, and by what means. You are also privy to Lanka's plight, a country that starved for food and fuel. This situation could easily replicate in nations that are in need of an aid-consortium, i.e. IMF/World Bank assistance, industrial investments and trade concessions from the West. Who then said that Ukraine's war is being fought only by Ukraine, for Ukraine and in Ukraine, and not outside its borders as West Europe wants you to believe?

There is a lesson in this for India. By not yielding to Western pressure to stop buying Russian crude, there was the unmentioned sovereignty and sovereign rights of the Indian nation. Then there was an open argument that Western Europe was buying Russian crude in one afternoon what India was procuring in an entire month. Now that Western Europe has decided to stop buying Russian crude sooner than expected, they all could remind us about our past references in the matter. After all, for the US, isolating Russia seems to be even more important than helping Ukraine hold on for a longer period, if not win the war.

INDIA'S SUNSHINE MOMENT IN TECH LEADERSHIP

ANURADHA GOYAL
Author and founder of IndiTales

Why has India not produced a Google or Twitter or Amazon? It is a question that has been asked a million times, with no convincing answer ever found. Well, all the big digital product companies primarily flourished in the West, which had the right breeding conditions for them. The rest of the world became a consumer and beneficiary of these technologies.

India's first defining moment in its new-age technology journey came around the turn of the millennium, when we helped the world deal with the infamous Y2K problem. The next moment came about a decade later when the first-generation digital entrepreneurs started building solutions for local problems. The third moment is now when unicorn is the buzzword. However, the question stayed where it was through this evolution cycle. We are a civilisation that thrives on questioning while waiting for the answer to appear before us. The time for the answer is now.

India's sweet spot is its leadership in public technology. No one has designed and used technology for the larger good of society as we have—at the moment within the boundaries of India but it is not limited to the country. It began with a biometric-based digital identity and a unique identification number called Aadhaar by the Unique Identification Authority of India. More than 129 crore UIDs have been generated in a decade till March 2021. This, when used to link identities across the bank accounts and mobile phones, has enabled the direct dissemination of public benefits. It is not without its hiccups, but it is a database that allows you to use it as the time and circumstances demand.

An example of the circumstantial use of UID is the CoWIN portal-Aarogya Setu App that used the Aadhaar database to vaccinate the large population, not just once but twice in a span of a few months. Its digital vaccination certificate is way ahead of the rest of the world. Micro ATMs are another case in point; they primarily use Aadhaar data to enable transactions using a small machine, which has now outnumbered the regular ATMs.

As cashless payments become our default mode for transactions, the ATMs may find a place in the tech museums (Bengaluru should plan one for all the redundant technologies). This brings us to another public technology from India famous for its speed of adoption across the board, thanks to widespread mobile phone adoption and availability of affordable data—Unified Payments Interface or UPI. We use different apps like BHIM, Google Pay or PayTM to make payments to people or merchants. Scannable QR codes can be seen used by everyone and everywhere, from pani puri sellers to hospital billing counters. What makes UPI unique is the zero cost for the users. Remember, we paid a transaction fee to enablers like credit card companies, limiting the number of transactions and keeping the value above certain spending limits. This game changer has enabled the person at the lowest end of the pyramid to do real-time digital transactions by converting their mobile phone into a virtual debit card that works across banks.

> What makes UPI unique is the zero cost for the users. Remember, we paid a transaction fee to enablers like credit card companies. Google has pitched for FedNow, a proposed inter-bank settlement system in the US, and has cited its experience with UPI in India

The global domino effect shows when Google pitches for FedNow—a proposed inter-bank settlement system in the US. It has cited its extensive experience with the UPI of the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) and shared learnings from our country that the US should emulate—including no fee for small low-value transactions.

The Open Network Digital Commerce (ONDC) is soon to be launched by the commerce and industry ministry. It is an open digital protocol that would allow exchange of products and services. Just like UPI, it will allow people to sell through any ONDC-compatible app or platform using its standard protocols for cataloguing, inventory management and order-cycle processing. It will create a level playing field in digital commerce for small and big players by giving them the power of discoverability while bringing down the monopolies of the big corporations.

In the pipeline are the Open Credit Enablement Network (OCEN) that would facilitate easy credit flow between lenders and borrowers, and Data Empowerment and Protection Architecture (DEPA), an agile consent management framework that aims to empower individuals by giving them control of their private data and how they share it with third parties.

The key features of all these technologies are that they are all open source and available at zero cost to the users or anyone who may want to utilise it. It is probably the best use of public money for public convenience. No wonder all these technologies are finding demand across the globe, from the developed to the developing world.

Philosophically speaking, this technology leadership embodies the Indian philosophy of Sarvajan hitaay, sarvajan sukhay—for the benefit and good of everyone—while treating the world as one family in the spirit of Vasudhaiva kutumbakam. Whether these protocols are new-age carriers of philosophy or rooted in them depends on which lens you view them from.

So next time when you face the question asked in the beginning, talk about the India stack comprising Aadhaar, UPI, ONDC, OCEN and DEPA, and our contribution to the world of technology rooted in the nation's culture.

Befitting reply needed

Targeted killings by terrorist groups are continuing in Kashmir. The attack against officials as well the common people should be checked. It's time to give a befitting reply to these terror groups and the ball is now in the Centre's court.

Ajay Rajeev, Cherthala

Religious polarisation

All political parties condemn the targeted killings sweeping across the Valley, but the violence continues unabated. Meanwhile, disputes over places of worship elsewhere in the country are growing. The common thread that runs through most of these events is religious polarisation engineered by vested interests. Everybody is aware of the disease—religious divisions. And everybody also knows the remedy and that is religiously practising secularism. However, with the remedy being termed "expired", the disease festers. Quite clearly, the country has waded into uncharted waters.

S Sanjeevi Rao, Puducherry

Ethnic cleansing in Valley

It appears to be another exodus of the Hindu community from Kashmir. This is precisely what the Islamists want as they try to achieve their goal of ethnic cleansing in Kashmir, so that they can create in the Valley what the Taliban did in Afghanistan. It is time for drastic measures to tame them.

K V Raghuram, Wayanad

Warning for LDF

The emphatic win of the Congress candidate in the Thrikkakara by-election is a clear rejection of the dream project of CM Pinarayi Vijayan—SilverLine. Of course the local action committees against SilverLine too played their role in building up public awareness about the adverse features of the project. In case the government goes ahead with the project in total disregard of public opinion, Nandigram will be repeated and the result will be a total rout of the communist party in Kerala.

M T Thomas, Peruva

Ties with Afghanistan

The talks between Indian diplomat J P Singh and the Taliban foreign minister is an important step in India-Afghan ties. Singh also oversaw the distribution and utilisation of humanitarian aid. India from time immemorial has had strong historical and cultural ties with that country. The contributions by India in the field of education are praiseworthy. Even the Taliban minister has expressed his gratitude to India and urged the country to restart the work on development projects there.

E Ravi Varma Raja, Ennakkad

Welcome talks with Israel

The bilateral meeting between the defence ministers of India and Israel is a positive step (India, Israel to enhance ties in futuristic defence technology, June 3). There was a need for thorough discussions on a wide range of issues including improving collaboration in tech R&D. The India-Israel Vision on Defence Cooperation should ensure that our nation gets access to advanced military equipment and technology such as the Trophy Tank Defence System and the Iron Dome.

Cities high on toxic air this summer

Ozone content in ground-level air exceeds standards in all six metros, says latest study

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

The summer of 2022 — one of the hottest in India's recorded history — witnessed widespread increase in the level of ozone gas at ground level, making the air in metro cities more toxic, says a latest analysis.

Termed 'ozone exceedance', the phenomenon refers to above-normal ozone concentration at ground level.

According to latest air quality analysis by the Centre for Science and Environment (CSE), Delhi-NCR is followed by Mumbai, Kolkata, Hyderabad, Chennai and Bengaluru in the list of metros having higher levels of ozone exceedance. Both Chennai and Bengaluru have longer durations of exceedance despite lower frequency compared to other metros. While Delhi-NCR recorded ozone exceedance on almost all days of this summer, Mumbai had 75 days of exceedance. The study warns that the issue can blow up as a major health crisis in the coming days.

"Even before we could control the problem of particulate pollution, the toxic threat of ground-level ozone is catching up with us. Despite the warning signs, this problem has not attracted adequate policy or public attention for mitigation and prevention. Inadequate monitoring, limited data and inappropriate methods of trend analysis have weakened the understanding of this growing toxic risk," says Anumita Roychowdhury, executive director-research and advocacy, CSE.

The assessment has traced trends during summer (March-May) between 2019 to 2022 May (up to May 30). The analysis is based on publicly available granular real time data (15-minute averages) from the CPCB's official online portal Central Control Room for Air Quality Management.

New Delhi and south Delhi neighbourhoods were the worst affected. The data also showed hourly peak levels up by 23 per cent compared to lockdown times. The 2020 State of Global Air report states that age-standardised rates of death attributable to ozone is among the highest in India. The seasonal eight-hour daily maximum concentrations have recorded one of the highest increases in India between 2010 and 2017.

Foreign ministry junks US report on religious freedom

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

A day after a US State Department report on religious freedom mentioned attacks on minority communities in India "throughout the year", the Ministry of External Affairs hit back, pointing at the racial crimes and gun culture in the US.

Alleging that the report was based on "motivated inputs", MEA spokesperson Arindam Bagchi said, "It is unfortunate that vote bank politics is being practised in international relations. We would urge that assessments based on motivated inputs and biased views be avoided. We have noted the release of the US State Department 2021 Report on International Religious Freedom and ill-informed comments by senior US officials."

The annual report, released by US Secretary of State Antony Blinken alleged attacks on members of the minority communities took place throughout 2021 in India. Speaking on the occasion, Blinken had said that India, "the world's largest democracy and home to a great diversity of faiths", had "seen rising attacks on people and places of worship". US ambassador-at-large for international religious freedom Rashad Hussain said some officials in India were "ignoring or even supporting rising attacks".

The MEA rejected the report. "As a naturally pluralistic society, India values religious freedom and human rights," Bagchi said. "In our discussions with the US, we have regularly highlighted issues of concern there, including racially and ethnically motivated attacks, hate crimes and gun violence."

Need strong Oppn parties without nepotism, says PM

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

MAKING pitch for a strong opposition while addressing a gathering at Paraunkh, the ancestral village of President Ram Nath Kovind in Kanpur Dehat district, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Friday said he was in favour of a strong opposition so that the "democracy can flourish" in the country. He also said that some parties misunderstand his criticism of dynastic politics.

"I want that there must be a strong opposition in the country and that political parties must come out of dynastic politics," he said.

It will strengthen the democracy in the country and youths will get more opportunities in politics, he said, but wondered if "I am expecting a lot from dynastic political parties".

President Kovind, who is on a visit to his village, came to Kanpur airport to welcome PM Modi, breaking presidential protocol. In his address, Kovind thanked Modi for visiting the village and for backing him for the post of President.

The PM also shared his experience of visiting the Paraunkh village and interaction with locals.

The PM said that the country is working for the development of farmers, women and youth.

Today in rural India, roads are being made, fibre optic cables are being laid and houses being constructed for the poor, he said. "Our villages are capable, have manpower and are well to do. Empowerment of villages is our primary objective," he said.

Saffron camp focuses on women power in RS polls

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

IN the shape of things to come for the 2024 Lok Sabha polls, the BJP has given the party ticket to six women among 22 candidates for the biennial Rajya Sabha elections.

As a part of a well thought-out equation, the BJP is experimenting with proportional representation to half of the population in the ticket distribution. "Setting aside nominations to women for the Rajya Sabha polls is not a small thing. It has a forward-looking agenda for assembly elections in six states and then the 2024 polls," remarked a woman leader at the party headquarters on Friday.

Voting for the Rajya Sabha election takes place through set norms. "The BJP wants to project itself as a party which is genuinely concerned about 'proportional representation' to women in the Upper House," she said.

Sources said the party has prepared an action plan to ensure proportional participation of women in the Assembly and the Parliamentary elections. "When the six women are elected, they will become the face of the party in the Upper House, where they can counter the opposition women MPs," said a BJP leader. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman is among the six women candidates nominated by the BJP for the Rajya Sabha polls. The FM is nominated from Karnataka while Kavita Patidar is set to enter the House from MP.

'India perfectly capable of managing difficult relationship with China'

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

INDIA'S problems with China predate the challenges the world is facing due to the Ukraine conflict, said India's External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar while speaking at the Globsec 2022 Forum meeting in Bratislava on Friday.

"India has a difficult relationship with China, but is perfectly capable of managing it," said Dr Jaishankar during the discussion.

Jaishankar said the West needs to understand how India fits in. "Europe has to grow out of the mindset that Europe's problems are the world's problems, but the world's problems are not Europe's problems."

The minister was asked why India has increased its oil imports from Russia, which is "indirectly helping Russia to fund its war in Ukraine". Jaishankar reiterated India's position that the country bought only a small share of oil from Moscow. However, he hastened to add that the same logic was applicable to all European countries who were buying oil and gas from Russia. That meant those countries too were helping Russia to fund the conflict, he said.

> Europe is buying oil and gas from Russia. The package of sanctions is designed in a way that it is considerate for a segment. If you are considerate for your own people, be considerate for others as well. As far as India is concerned, we buy the best oil from the market
> Dr S Jaishankar, Foreign Minister

"Europe is buying oil and gas from Russia. The package of sanctions is designed in a way that it is considerate for a segment of population. If you are considerate for your own people, be considerate for others as well. As far as India is concerned, we buy the best oil from the market and there is no political messaging involved in that," the EAM said.

Jaishankar also suggested that the West consider allowing oil imports from Venezuela and Iran.

The West has also been critical of India restricting its wheat exports. Jaishankar said India has been exporting nearly 2-3 million tonnes of wheat annually. "We decide to restrict our exports of wheat after it was brought to our notice that there were buyers from Singapore and Dubai who were purchasing wheat at low costs from India and selling them for profits. As a result, the price of wheat went up in India and the low-income buyers were squeezed up. This wasn't acceptable. So we decided to export to deserving countries."

The EAM is on a four-day visit to Slovakia and the Czech Republic.

REGIONAL CONNECTIVITY

Passenger, cargo flights to take off from IAF land

MAYANK SINGH @ New Delhi

IN a step to beef up the regional air connectivity across the country, the Indian Air Force has agreed to spare land at its bases for operation of passenger and cargo flights. This will initially include seven air bases with plans to include other bases later to run such operations.

The Ministry of Defence (MoD) on Friday said, "Indian Air Force has facilitated working permission and handing over of defence land by MoD to Airport Authority of India (AAI) at seven locations, viz, Bagdogra, Darbhanga, Adampur, Utarlai, Sarsawa, Kanpur and Gorakhpur."

"Under the process, approximately 40 acres of land is being handed over for development of civil terminals and necessary airfield infrastructure for commencing RCS flights," said MoD, adding that the rise in the civil flights at these locations will help improve the economy and develop the selected areas.

Moreover, the plan also includes improving the flight operations at other IAF air bases also where civil flights are already operational. "IAF is also in the process of handing over defence land for expansion of civil airports at six locations — Srinagar, Thanjavur, Chandigarh, Leh, Pune and Agra," said the MoD.

This will facilitate expansion of the existing terminals and facilities to accommodate an enhanced number of passengers and cargo infrastructure.

The steps are being taken in line with the "Ude Desh ka Aam Nagarik" (UDAN) vision and to facilitate Regional Connectivity Scheme (RCS). Besides, the IAF has been conducting exercises to utilise civil airport runways and services to validate operational landings and flight for exigencies in case of active war.

SHUNTED OUT OF RS LIST, AZAD 'DECLINED' SONIA'S OFFER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

WITH senior Congress leaders Ghulam Nabi Azad and Anand Sharma missing from the party's Rajya Sabha list, there is a strong buzz that Sonia Gandhi had offered a top party position to Azad but he politely turned it down.

Azad and Sharma, part of the G23 ginger group that wrote to Sonia Gandhi seeking organisational revamp and internal elections, were reportedly probables for the berth in the Upper house but their names did not figure in the final list, leaving several party leaders guessing.

Sources said the Congress chief got in touch with Azad and offered him a top party position but he reportedly talked about the generational gap and how there is a big difference in the thinking of young and old leaderships.

Sources close to Azad said he was also offered a Rajya Sabha berth but he said the demand of G23 is for a complete overhaul in the functioning of the party.

There has been a buzz for a while that Azad is mulling to leave the party or float his own outfit in Jammu and Kashmir.

In the case of Sharma, there were rumours that he will join the saffron camp as he was upset over denial of Rajya Sabha ticket.

He later called the rumours "political mischief" and said he will continue to work for the party.

There has been rumbling in the grand old party since the distribution of tickets for the Upper House election and several leaders have expressed their reservations about the ticket distribution by the party.

ED fresh summons to Rahul for appearance on June 13

New Delhi: The Enforcement Directorate (ED) has issued a fresh summon to Congress MP Rahul Gandhi to appear before the agency on June 13 for questioning in a money laundering case linked to the National Herald newspaper. The economic intelligence agency had earlier asked Congress president Sonia Gandhi and Rahul to record their statements in the matter June 8 and June 2, respectively, but the latter sought more time to depose as he was out of the country. Officials said Rahul had been given another date — June 13 — to be present at its headquarters in Delhi for questioning. ENS

Karti's anticipatory bail plea rejected by Delhi court

New Delhi: A Delhi court on Friday dismissed the anticipatory bail plea of Congress MP Karti Chidambaram in a case registered by the Enforcement Directorate in the alleged Chinese Visas scam. Special Judge MK Nagpal denied relief to Karti, saying there was not enough ground to allow his application. The ED recently registered the money-laundering case against Karti and others in the alleged scam pertaining to the issuance of a visa to 263 Chinese nationals in 2011. The federal agency has filed its case under the provisions of the PMLA taking cognisance of a recent FIR by the CBI . ENS

Spike in Covid: Centre writes to 5 states, seeks 'pre-emptive' measures

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

CONCERNED over the surge in Covid-19 cases, the Centre has written to five states — Tamil Nadu, Kerala, Telangana, Karnataka and Maharashtra — that are "reporting a higher contribution to India's cases".

The Centre said the surge could indicate a possibility of a "localised spread of infection".

In a letter to the states, Union Health Secretary Rajesh Bhushan said: "There is a need to follow a risk assessment-based approach on the public health responses without losing the gains made so far in the fight against the pandemic."

In separate letters to all the five states, he said, it is essential the state must maintain a strict watch and take pre-emptive action if required to control any emerging spread of infection.

India recorded 4,041 fresh cases on Friday, the highest in 84 days, while the number of active cases across the country rose on the 11th day in a row.

Kerala continues to report highest number of Covid-19 cases in the country. According to the data shared by the ministry, Kerala accounts for 31.14 per cent of India's new cases. Kerala is followed by Maharashtra, which accounts for 23.19 per cent of India's cases. Tamil Nadu accounts for 3.13 per cent of the country's cases while the figure is 1.78 per cent for Telangana.

PRIYANKA TESTS POSITIVE

Congress general secretary Priyanka Gandhi Vadra on Friday said she has tested positive for Covid-19 and has quarantined herself. A day earlier, her mother and party president Sonia Gandhi had tested positive. In a tweet, Priyanka Gandhi Vadra said, "I've tested positive for Covid-19 with mild symptoms. Following all protocols, I have quarantined myself at home."

Bhagwant Mann with Balkaur Singh, father of Sidhu Moosewala, at Musa village on Friday | PTI

Amid protests, Mann meets Moosewala kin

Punjab CM assures family of speedy probe into the killing

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

AMID protests held by angry local villagers, Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann met slain Punjabi singer Sidhu Moosewala's parents at their native place Moosa in Mansa. Mann assured the family that the killers will be behind the bars at the earliest.

Mann, who stayed with the aggrieved family for over an hour, assured them that the police has got vital clues regarding the murder of Moosewala and that the perpetrators will be nabbed soon. He also said that on the demand of the family, he has set the wheels in motion for a judicial probe headed by a sitting High Court judge.

Asserting that he accords top priority to humanity, Mann said whosoever wants do politics should be ashamed. He said that people who had been criticising the singer on varied issues are now shamelessly shedding crocodile tears for cheap publicity. People of Punjab are aware of the dubious track record of these hypocrite leaders and they will not get misled by them, Mann added.

Around 1,500 police personnel had been deployed outside the residence of Moosewala as Mann went to meet the bereaved family amid protests by people against the Punjab government and state police for allegedly stopping them from entering the village ahead of the CM's visit. "We are being stopped from entering the village. Vehicles of our relatives are not being allowed to enter either," a villager said.

The police however denied the claims. The MLA of the ruling Aam Aadmi Party, Gurpreet Singh, who reached Moosewala's house ahead of Mann's visit, faced protests and had to return, as the protesters raised slogans against the state government. He later came back with Mann.

The AAP had drawn criticism as no MLA or minister had visited the family or attended the singer's cremation on Wednesday.

Gangster 'admits' role

Gangster Lawrence Bishnoi is said to have told the Delhi Police that he got Moosewala killed. Sources said Bishnoi, who is in the custody of the Special Cell of Delhi Police, alleged that Moosewala had a hand in the killing of Youth Shiromani Akali Dal leader Vicky Middukhera last year.Meanwhile, two youths linked to Bishnoi have been nabbed from Fatehabad in Haryana by the Punjab Police.

Z-category security for Akal Takht jathedar

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Chandigarh

THE Union government has given Z-category security cover to Akal Takht (the highest temporal seat of Sikhs) Jathedar (high priest), Giani Harpreet Singh. The state government had earlier reduced his security cover.

According to sources, Harpreet Singh will be provided security by commandos of the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF). He will also be provided with an escort and pilot vehicles when he travels by road. Under the Z-category security, 16-20 armed commandos are deployed in shifts with the protectee round-the-clock. "The CRPF commandos will be in charge of his security," said an official.

Singh said he had neither demanded the security from the Central government nor had he received any official information in this regard.

The Punjab government had last month withdrawn three of the six gunmen of Singh, prompting him to say that the state government can take away the rest of his security personnel as well. Within a few hours, his security cover was restored but Singh had refused to take them back.

Welcoming the Centre's move, BJP leader and former Delhi Sikh Gurdwara Management Committee president Manjinder Singh Sirsa tweeted, "Thanking Union Home Minister Amit Shah for granting Z security to temporal authority of Sikhs Jathedar Sri Akal Takht Sahib Giani Harpreet Singh Ji. It's commendable of Govt of India to grant adequate and appropriate security to religious heads with due consideration of threat assessment."

BJP spokesperson RP Singh also tweeted, "Thank you Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Amit Shah ji for providing Z security to Jathedar Akal Takht Sahib, whose precious life had been compromised by government of Bhagwant Mann who withdrew his security."

Smooth sailing: Several elected unopposed to RS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

MANY Rajya Sabha candidates in several states were on Friday elected unopposed, leaving seats only in Rajasthan, Haryana, Karnataka and Maharashtra open for contest. Eleven candidates in Uttar Pradesh, Five in Bihar, three in Madhya Pradesh, two in Punjab, two in Jharkhand and two in Chhattisgarh sailed through smoothly.

In Bihar, 11 candidates that were elected on Friday include eight from Bharatiya Janata Party, one from Samajwadi Party and Rashtriya Lok Dal each, while one candidate was independent backed by SP. The BJP candidates elected unopposed to the Upper House are Darshana Singh, Babu Ram Nishad, Mithilesh Kumar, Radha Mohan Dal Agarwal, K Laxman, Laxmikant Bajpai, Surendra Singh Nagar and Sangeeta Yadav. Jayant Chaudhary from the RLD and Javed Ali Khan from the SP were the two other candidates that made it to the Rajya Sabha. Former Congress leader Kapil Sibal secured a berth in the Parliament as an independent. He was backed by SP.

In Bihar, which is witnessing a rift between two ruling allies BJP and JD-U, the candidates who have made it to Rajya Sabha without contest are Misa Bharti and Faiyaz Ahmed (RJD), Satish Chandra Dubey and Shambhu Sharan Patel (BJP), and Kheeru Mahto (JD-U).

Congress leader and senior lawyer Vivek Tankha and the BJP's Sumitra Valmiki and Kavita Patidar were declared as elected unopposed to the Rajya Sabha from Madhya Pradesh.

Jharkhand Mukti Morcha's Mahua Maji and Bharatiya Janata Party's Aditya Sahu were elected from Jharkhand. Both Maji and Sahu will be making their debuts in the Upper House of Parliament.

Amid sharp criticism faced by ruling Aam Aadmi Party in Punjab over the killing of singer-politician Sidhu Moosewala, its candidates — noted environmentalist Balbir Singh Seechewal and entrepreneur and social activist Vikramjit Singh Sahney — were elected unopposed on Friday.

The ruling Congress' nominees Rajeev Shukla and Ranjeet Ranjan were elected unopposed from Chhattisgarh.

Securing berth

Haryana Cong MLAs chilling at Mayfair

The 28 Congress MLAs from Haryana, who were herded to Raipur to insulate them from horse-trading attempts for the June 10 Rajya Sabha polls, are believed to be having a good time in the most expensive resort of the Chhattisgarh capital. None of them are allowed to speak to any outsider, including the media. The buzz is that 'dialogues' inside the Mayfair resort are taking place as part of 'confidence building measure'. Congress general secretary Ajay Maken, who has filed nomination from Haryana, is not willing to take any risk and has also arrived. He is personally interacting with each 'guest'. "All's well. They (Haryana MLAs) are receiving training here," said CM Bhupesh Baghel.

I-T tribunal bench at Secretariat building

Raipur has got its first full-fledged Income Tax Appellate Tribunal bench at Nava Raipur-based Central Secretariat building. It will be inaugurated by Kiran Rijiju, Union Law Minister, on June 4. The Tribunal functions as a quasi-judicial authority and specialises in dealing with appeals under the Direct Tax Acts. ITAT has 63 benches across the country. The appeals can be filed against the orders of income tax authorities. During Covid-19, ITAT had disposed of over 60,000 cases through virtual hearings. An e-filing portal facility is also maintained by ITAT. The tribunal is entrusted with the task of deciding intricate questions of law and fact.

Govt pats self for low unemployment rate

The Congress government in Chhattisgarh has got one more reason to pat its own back. The latest data of the Centre for Monitoring Indian Economy shows the state's unemployment rate to be 0.7% in May as against the national average of 7.1%. The Bhupesh Baghel government credited its model of development claiming the policies and programmes introduced by it have generated employment opportunities, particularly for the youth, and boosted the rural economy. The government has launched a mission to create 15 lakh new job opportunities in the next five years. "It's for everyone to see why there's a consistent decline in unemployment rate in the state," CM Baghel said.

Nagaland leader blackmailed with 'doctored' video

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Guwahati

AN unidentified criminal has blackmailed Nagaland minister Temjen Imna Along Longkumer by threatening to circulate a doctored video of him. However, Longkumer who is also the state BJP president, refused to yield to the blackmail.

In a social media post, Longkumer said he has been interacting with people through online channels. "However, taking advantage of my social media appearances, in order to defame my reputation, an unknown miscreant has edited my video with an adult video showcasing some vulgar scenes," Longkumer wrote.

He said the person has demanded a "lump sum" to keep him from uploading the "edited videos". "If anyone receives any message as such, kindly report it to me by sending me the ID or phone number," Longkumer wrote, adding that he has also lodged an official complaint. "I will take good care of him in our Naga style after I get to know his identity," he added, without elaborating on the term "Naga style". Calls made to him went unattended.

Another blow for Cong as Gujarat leader takes 'break from politics'

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA @ Ahmedabad

WITHIN days of Hardik Patel moving to BJP, the Gujarat Congress received another blow on Friday as former Union minister Bharatsinh Solanki announced a "short break" from politics.

"Elections are coming up at the end of 2022 but I am taking a break which could be for two months, three months, or even six months. This is my personal decision," he told media persons.

The announcement comes amid his troubled marriage.

Sources said Solanki has been annoyed with the Congress high command for a long time. He is said to have gone to Delhi to meet the Gandhi family a few days ago, but the latter did not give him appointment. The sources added that there are many other reasons for Solanki's exit, but he does not want to discredit the Gandhi family as his father Madhavsinh Solanki was loyal to the Gandhis. Hence, he decided to take a break citing his troubled marriage. He may join BJP later, as he is in touch with an old Congress ally who is now in the saffron camp.

A senior leader said: "Bharatsinh was annoyed since the Rajya Sabha election in 2020, when Congress spokesperson Shakti sinh was made candidate of first-preference."

Solanki has been embroiled in controversy due to his marital troubles. He has filed for divorce from his wife, who had earlier accused him of domestic violence.

RESORT POLITICS BEGINS NOW IN MAHARASHTRA

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

WITH seven candidates in fray for six Rajya Sabha seats in Maharashtra, 'resort politics' has come into play in the MVA-ruled state as well. Going by the numbers in the Assembly, the BJP will bag two seats while three MVA candidates will sail through. For the sixth seat, a high-voltage contest is expected between Shiv Sena's second candidate Sanjay Pawar, supported by the Maha Vikas Aghadi, and BJP's third candidate, Dhananjay Mahadik.

Earlier in day, a MVA delegation led by NCP leader Chagan Bhujbal met BJP leader Devendra Fadnavis to pursue him to withdraw Mahadik from the race in exchange for an additional seat in the upcoming state Legislative Council elections. "The BJP leadership refused the offer and instead made the same counter-offer to the MVA, which the Shiv Sena rejected," said a NCP minister.

The Sena has now asked its MLAs to be in Mumbai and all of them will camp in a five-star hotel on June 8-9 to avoid poaching by the BJP. Other parties are also likely to follow suit.

In Maharashtra, based on the total seats in the Assembly, each candidate requires at least 42 votes to win. The BJP has 105 MLAs and Piyush Goel and Anil Bhonde are sure to get elected. From the Aghadi, Prafulla Patel (NCP), Imran Pratapgarhi (Congress) and Sanjay Raut (Shiv Sena) are ensured of victory.

Patna HC gets 8 new judges, case backlog expected to come down

Patna: The Patna High Court has got seven new judges while Justice Ahsanuddin Amanullah has been transferred back from Andhra Pradesh, raising the total number of judges to 35. But even after the new appointments, there are 18 vacancies as the Patna High Court has a sanctioned strength of 53 judges. The Centre has already notified the appointment of seven judicial officers as judges — Shailendra Singh, Arun Kumar Jha, Jitendra Kumar, Alok Kumar Pandey, Sunil Dutta Mishra, Chandra Prakash Singh and Chandra Shekhar Jha. There are over three lakh cases pending cases in the HC. A huge number of under-trials are languishing in jails as their bail petitions are not being heard in time due to inadequate number of judges. According to a recent report by HC registry, 39,622 bail applications are pending. ENS

BJP pulls population policy card at JD-U

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

AFTER coming together on the issue of caste-based census in Bihar, the BJP has sought to embarrass its ally, JD-U, by demanding enforcement of population control policy in the state. In an apparent bid to reassert itself after JD-U leader Nitish Kumar imposed his caste-based plan on the BJP, the saffron party has now raised the issue of population control policy in a bid to put the chief minister in a spot.

BJP minister Neeraj Kumar Singh 'Babloo' said, "Caste-based census is fine but now there is a need for enforcement of population control policy in Bihar in view of the population explosion." The remark evoked a sharp reaction from state JD-U president Umesh Kushwaha, who denied the need for such a policy.

The state cabinet on Thursday passed a proposal to conduct a caste-based survey with the state's resources.

Babloo claimed that Bihar's growth would not become 'visible' until the population control policy was enforced.

Nitish has always spoken against population policy, saying the fertility rate would decline with girls' education.

Now, Jammu-based staffers threaten mass migration if not moved from Valley

FAYAZ WANI @ Srinagar

EVEN as fear-stricken Kashmiri Pandit employees have begun to relocate to Jammu after the recent targeted killings in the Valley, the Jammu-based reserved category employees posted in Kashmir are threatening mass-migration if they are not posted outside the Valley.

The Jammu-based employees on Friday staged a protest. One of the protesters said the reserve category employees have been serving in the Valley since 2007 and never felt insecure in the last 15 years. "However, after the targeted killings, we are feeling unsafe in the Valley and none of us want to work in the Valley. We appeal to the government to immediately transfer us from Kashmir to our home districts in Jammu region," he said. said.

Another protester said in the current situation, nobody from Jammu wants to serve in Kashmir. "We urge the government to form a comprehensive transfer policy for us," he stated.

The employees warn that if the government does not come up with a transfer policy, they would resign en-masse.

Meanwhile, some of the Pandit employees recruited in the Valley under the PM's job package have arrived in Jammu.

"The situation is very tense. The first migration of Pandits happened in 1990 and now the second one is unfolding. Even after 32 years, Pandits are not safe in Kashmir," said a staffer returning from Anantnag.

Yogi directs strict action as clashes erupt in Kanpur

NAMITA BAJPAI @ Lucknow

TAKING cognizance of the communal conflagration in Kanpur, Uttar Pradesh (UP) Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath has issued directives to UP Director general of police (DGP) and state Chief Secretary along with additional chief secretary, home, to invoke Gangster Act and National Security Act (NSA) against the trouble makers, imposing strictest sections to make the action a deterrent for others.

As many as 12 persons have been injured in the clashes. Eighteen people have been arrested.

After seeing President Ram Nath Kovind and Prime Minister Narendra Modi off from Chakeri airport, the CM called up Chief Secretary DS Mishra, DGP DS Chauhan and ACS, Home, Avnish Awasthi to take the details of the flare-up.

According to sources, the CM also issued directives to the officers to act against the culprits under the National Security Act (NSA) and seize their property, and use bulldozer if necessary so that no one dares to vitiate the atmosphere by spreading communal frenzy in the state in future.

Meanwhile, giving an update over the incident, ADG (law & order) Prashant Kumar said that added force, including 12 companies of the Provincial Armed Constabulary have been sent to the area.

The ADG said that members of a particular community tired to get the shops shut forcibly over alleged insulting remarks made by BJP spokesperson Nupur Sharma during a television debate recently. When it was resisted, then stone-pelting from both the sides started. As the police tried to intervene, it was also attacked. After the senior officials reached the spot, force was used to bring the situation under control.

100 DAYS INTO WAR, RUSSIA KEEN TO STAY IN UKRAINE

Ruble now an official currency in southern Kherson region; residents being given Russian passports in Kremlin-controlled Zaporizhzhia

KYIV

WHEN Vladimir Putin sent troops into Ukraine in late February, the Russian president vowed his forces would not occupy the country. But as the invasion reached its 100th day on Friday, Moscow seemed increasingly unlikely to relinquish the territory it has taken in the war.

The ruble is now an official currency in the southern Kherson region, alongside the Ukrainian hryvnia. Residents there and in Russia-controlled parts of the Zaporizhzhia region are being offered expedited Russian passports. The Kremlin-installed administrations in both regions have talked about plans to become part of Russia.

The Moscow-backed leaders of separatist areas in eastern Ukraine's Donbas region, which is mostly Russian-speaking, have expressed similar intentions. Putin recognised the separatists' self-proclaimed republics as independent two days before launching the invasion, and fierce fighting has been underway in the east for weeks as Russia seeks to "liberate" all of the Donbas.

We have defended Ukraine for 100 days already. Victory will be ours

Volodymyr Zelenskyy, Ukraine President

The Kremlin has largely kept mum about its plans for the cities, towns and villages it has bombarded, encircled and finally captured. Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov has said it will be up to the people living in seized areas to decide their status.

Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said this week that enemy forces now control almost one-fifth of the country's territory. But in a video message marking the war's first 100 days, he made it clear Ukraine will not submit easily. "We have defended Ukraine for 100 days already. Victory will be ours," he said.

Initially, at least, annexing more land from Ukraine was not believed to be the main goal of the invasion. It was widely thought that the Kremlin intended to install a pro-Moscow government in Kyiv that would prevent Ukraine from joining NATO and pulling further away from Russia's influence.

But now, Moscow is unlikely to let go of its military gains, according to political analysts.

"Of course (Russia) intends to stay," said Andrei Kolesnikov, senior fellow at the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace.

To Russia, "it's a pity to give away what has been occupied, even if it was not part of the original plan."

Russian forces captured much of Kherson and neighboring Zaporizhzhia early in the war, gaining control over most of Ukraine's Sea of Azov coast and securing a partial land corridor to the Crimean Peninsula, which Russia annexed from Ukraine in 2014. They completed the takeover last month with the capture of port city of Mariupol following a three-month siege. AP

EU bans most Russian oil imports

Brussels: The European Union (EU) formally adopted a ban on most Russian oil imports on Friday, hitting Moscow with its toughest sanctions over the war. The sanctions include cutting Russia's biggest bank Sberbank from the global SWIFT messaging system. President Vladimir Putin's alleged girlfriend, former gymnast Alina Kabaeva, was also added to an assets freeze and visa ban blacklist.

THE HUMAN TOLL

Nobody really knows how many combatants or civilians have died, and claims of casualties by government officials are all but impossible to verify. Government officials, UN agencies and others who carry out the grim task of counting the dead don't always get access to places where people were killed. Moscow has released scant information about casualties among its forces and allies, and given no accounting of civilian deaths in areas under its control. "At least tens of thousands of Ukrainian civilians have died so far," President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said on Thursday. He said 60 to 100 Ukrainian soldiers are dying in combat every day, with about 500 more wounded. In Mariupol alone, officials have reported over 21,000 civilian deaths. Such estimates comprise both those killed by Russian strikes and those who succumbed to secondary effects such as hunger and sickness. Russia's last publicly released figures for its own forces came on March 25, when a general said 1,351 soldiers had been killed and 3,825 wounded. Ukraine and Western observers say the real number is much higher. Zelenskyy said on Thursday that more than 30,000 Russian servicemen have died.

DEATH & DESTRUCTION

AFP

One hundred days into Russia's invasion of Ukraine, the war has brought the world a near-daily drumbeat of gut wrenching scenes: Civilian corpses in the streets of Bucha; a blown-up theatre in Mariupol; the chaos at a Kramatorsk train station in the wake of a Russian missile strike. Here's a look at some numbers and statistics that shed further light on the death, destruction, displacement and economic havoc wrought by the war

THE DEVASTATION

Relentless shelling, bombing and airstrikes have reduced large swathes of many towns to rubble. Ukraine's parliamentary commission on human rights says Russia's military has destroyed almost 38,000 residential buildings, rendering about 2,20,000 people homeless. Nearly 1,900 educational facilities from kindergartens to grade schools to universities have been damaged. Other infrastructure losses include 300 car and 50 rail bridges, 500 factories and about 500 damaged hospitals, according to Ukrainian officials. The World Health Organisation has tallied 296 attacks on hospitals, ambulances and medical workers in Ukraine.

LAND SEIZED

Ukrainian officials say that before the February invasion, Russia controlled some 7% of Ukrainian territory including Crimea, which Russia annexed in 2014, and areas held by the separatists in Donetsk and Luhansk. On Thursday, Zelenskyy said Russian forces now held 20% of the country. While the front lines are constantly shifting, that amounts to an additional 58,000 sq km under Russian control.

FLEEING HOME

The UN refugee agency UNHCR estimates that about 6.8 million people have been driven out of Ukraine at some point during the conflict. But since fighting subsided in areas near Kyiv and elsewhere, and Russian forces redeployed to the east and south, about 2.2 million have returned to the country, it says. UN's Organisation for Migration estimates that as of May 23, there were more than 7.1 million internally displaced people.

THE ECONOMIC FALLOUT

The West has levied a host of retaliatory sanctions against Moscow including on the crucial oil and gas sectors. Ukraine, meanwhile, has reported suffering a staggering economic blow: 35% of GDP wiped out by the war. AP

Junta to carry out judicial executions

Yangon: Myanmar's junta will execute a former member of Aung San Suu Kyi's party and a prominent democracy activist, both of whom were convicted of terrorism, in the country's first judicial executions since 1990, a spokesman said on Friday. Four people, including former MP Phyo Zeya Thaw and democracy activist Ko Jimmy, "who were sentenced to death will be hanged according to prison procedures", Zaw Min Tun said. The junta has sentenced dozens of anti-coup activists to death as part of its crackdown on dissent after seizing power last year, but Myanmar has not carried out an execution for decades. Phyo Zeya Thaw, a former member of Suu Kyi's National League for Democracy who was arrested in November, was sentenced to death in January for offences under anti-terrorism laws. AFP

UN: Taliban faces threat from IS, new resistance

United Nations: Afghanistan's Taliban rulers are maintaining close ties with al-Qaida as they consolidate control over the country, and their main threat is coming from the Islamic State group and guerrilla-style attacks by former Afghan government security personnel, UN experts said in a new report. The experts said with the onset of better weather, fighting may escalate as both IS and resistance forces undertake operations against Taliban forces. AP

Tiananmen anniv: Cops close Victoria Park

Hong Kong: Police said on Friday they will close large parts of Victoria Park, once the site of packed annual candlelight vigils to commemorate China's Tiananmen crackdown, on the eve of the event's 33rd anniversary. The announcement came a day after authorities warned people that going to the park on June 4 -- even alone -- could put them at risk of breaking the law. In the past, huge crowds would routinely gather in the large public space to pay tribute to victims of the Chinese government's 1989 clampdown, when soldiers brutally quashed peaceful demonstrations demanding political and economic reform. Authorities said most gathering spaces in the park will be closed between Friday night and Sunday. AP

Food crunch looms; Lanka prez calls for stockpiling of essentials

COLOMBO

SRI LANKA President Gotabaya Rajapaksa has instructed officials to stockpile adequate essentials and warned against organised efforts of traders from creating an artificial scarcity amidst an impending food shortage facing the island nation in the next three months, media reports said on Friday. Sri Lanka is going through the worst economic crisis since independence.

A crippling shortage of foreign reserves has led to long queues for fuel, cooking gas, and other essentials while power cuts and soaring food prices heaped misery on the people.

"President Rajapaksa has instructed relevant officials to take measures to ensure that there is no shortage of goods and prevent the organised efforts of some businessmen to increase prices by pretending to have a shortage of goods," news portal Economy Next quoted a statement from the Presidential Media Division issued on Friday.

President Rajapaksa also instructed the Consumer Affairs Authority to take legal action against those taking advantage of the current situation and are trading at unfair prices, according to news portal Colombo Page. The President's request comes after experts have warned of a possible shortage of rice and other essential items from September because of lower production due to the impacts of Rajapaksa regime banning chemical fertilisers in April last year. PTI

Leaders reach consensus on provisions of 21A

Colombo: Sri Lanka's top political leaders on Friday agreed on some of the provisions of the controversial 21st Amendment to the Constitution aimed at empowering Parliament over the executive president during the second round of meeting with Prime Minister Ranil Wickremesinghe. Prime Minister Wickremesinghe's office said a general consensus was reached between parties on some of the proposed provisions. However, the main Opposition SJB had held that the Supreme Court's determination on their version of the 21A must be awaited before the final draft could be agreed upon. The 21st Amendment is expected to annul the 20A to the Constitution, which gives unfettered powers to President Gotabaya Rajapaksa. PTI

Train crash kills four in Germany

BERLIN

A TRAIN derailed near a Bavarian Alpine resort in southern Germany on Friday killing at least four people and injuring dozens in a region gearing up to host the G7 summit in late June.

Several carriages of the red-coloured local train were lying on their sides on a grassy area next to a highway.

Rescuers stood on the top-facing side of the carriages, using ladders to climb into the waggons to reach trapped passengers.

"In the serious train accident, as of 3:32 pm, four people were fatally injured," said police in a statement.

"Around 30 passengers were injured, 15 of them so seriously that they have had to be admitted to nearby hospitals," they said, adding that a huge rescue operation was underway.

The accident came as rail officials were nervously watching if a new nine-euro monthly public transport ticket valid across Germany would lead to overcrowded trains over the bank holiday weekend. AFP

Pak govt mulls initiating sedition case against Imran

ISLAMABAD

THE Pakistan government is mulling to launch a sedition case against former prime minister Imran Khan and the chief ministers of Gilgit-Baltistan and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa for allegedly planning an "attack" on the federation during a protest here last month.

A meeting of the special committee of the Cabinet held under the chairmanship of Interior Minister Rana Sana Ullah Khan on Thursday deliberated on the issue of bringing sedition charges against Khan and others following their "Azadi March" that left a trail of destruction in the capital Islamabad.

The May 25 march aimed at forcing the government to call snap polls, but failed to achieve its objective as clashes erupted between protestors and the police.

The government has been mulling options for appropriate action against Khan and others for vandalising the property of the State.

The committee was briefed about the PTI's long march and its formal plan to attack the federation, according to a report by the state-run Associated Press of Pakistan. PTI

'How much more carnage?' Biden appeals for tougher gun laws

WASHINGTON

"ENOUGH, enough," President Joe Biden exclaimed over and over as he delivered an impassioned address to the nation imploring Congress to take action against gun violence after mass shootings he said had turned schools, supermarkets and other everyday places into "killing fields." If legislators fail to act, he warned, voters should use their "outrage" to turn it into a central issue in November's midterm elections.

Speaking at the White House on Thursday night, Biden acknowledged the stiff political headwinds as he sought to drive up pressure on Congress to pass stricter gun limits after such efforts failed following past attacks.

He repeated calls to restore a ban on the sale of assault-style weapons and high-capacity magazines, and said if Congress won't embrace all of his proposals, it must at least find compromises like keeping firearms from those with mental health issues or raising the age to buy assault-style weapons from 18 to 21.

"How much more carnage are we willing to accept?" Biden asked after last week's shootings by an 18-year-old gunman, who killed 19 students and two teachers at an elementary school in Uvalde, Texas, and another attack on Wednesday in Tulsa, Oklahoma, where a gunman shot and killed four people and himself at a medical office. "Don't tell me raising the age won't make a difference," he said. AP

UN: Blast kills two peacekeepers in Mali

Bamako: Two UN peacekeepers were killed and two others injured on Friday after an improvised bomb exploded in central Mali, a spokesman for the MINUSMA mission tweeted. The soldiers were part of the Egyptian contingent of the UN peacekeeping mission, a security official said. "The head of MINUSMA condemned the attack," spokesman Olivier Salgado posted. He said the incident took place near the town of Douentza. On Wednesday, a Jordanian blue helmet died in an attack on his convoy in northern Mali. With 13,000 members, the mission is one of the UN's biggest peacekeeping operations.

4 killed as Kenyan police fire at protesting crowd

Nairobi: Four people were killed and five others injured when Kenyan police opened fire on a crowd protesting against an increase in attacks by wildlife, a senior official said on Friday. Police shot at the demonstrators in the Rift Valley town of Masimba, 170kms south of Nairobi, said Joseph Ole Lenku, governor of Kajiado county. "Two of the victims of the gunshots are in critical condition," Lenku, a former interior minister, said in a statement. The incident occurred on Thursday when locals clashed with police during a protest the recent killing of a teacher by an elephant. The protesters blocked a busy road linking Nairobi with the busy port city of Mombasa.

Queen misses Platinum Jubilee Thanksgiving Service after 'discomfort'

LONDON

AFTER a hectic schedule of events that kick-started her Platinum Jubilee celebrations with a grand Birthday Parade, Queen Elizabeth II chose not to attend a special Service of Thanksgiving at St Paul's Cathedral in London on Friday.

Buckingham Palace said the 96-year-old monarch had experienced some 'discomfort' on Thursday, which marked two balcony appearances with royal family members and a ceremonial lighting of beacons.

"The Queen greatly enjoyed Thursday's Birthday Parade and flypast, but did experience some discomfort," a palace spokesperson said.

"Taking into account the journey and activity required to participate in the national Service of Thanksgiving at St. Paul's Cathedral, Her Majesty with great reluctance has concluded that she will not attend," the spokesperson said.

The Queen has previously spoken of mobility problems and the palace confirmed ahead of the Jubilee the monarch would consider the events she felt able to attend during the four-day celebration.

Her son and heir, Prince Charles, and his wife Camilla joined Princes William and Harry and their spouses — Kate Middleton and Meghan Markle — at the service, which brought together 400 people such as frontline workers, charity volunteers and armed forces members in recognition of their contribution to public life.

The service marks the first time Harry and Meghan, the Duke and Duchess of Sussex, are joining other senior royals for a major event since they stepped back from frontline royalty to relocate to the US with their children Archie and Lilibet — named after the monarch.

The Archbishop of York delivered the sermon at the service, after the Archbishop of Canterbury was also forced to pull out with coronavirus. British Prime Minister Boris Johnson read from the Bible as he was joined by senior members of the Cabinet as guests. AP

LIC investors lose ₹94K crore as stock falls

LIC m-cap fell to ₹5,06, 158 cr (Friday closing) against m-cap of ₹6,00,242 cr based on the upper end of IPO price

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

SHAREHOLDERS of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) have lost ₹94,116 crore in the past 14 trading sessions as its shares hit new low in the highly volatile market. Its market capitalisation (m-cap) fell to ₹5,06, 158 crore (Friday closing) against a m-cap of ₹6,00,242 crore based on the upper end of its IPO price.

This is a big setback for investors who in recent times have lost big money in companies such as Paytm, Zomato and Nykaa.

Share prices of Life Insurance Corporation (LIC) on Friday closed at a fresh low of ₹800 on the BSE as against its issue price of ₹949, a fall of about 16%. Following this, LIC's ranking in the most valuable publicly listed company has slipped from 5th place to 7th place. The company's m-cap now stands below Hindustan Unilever and ICICI Bank.

LIC hit the exchanges on May 17 at ₹867 apiece (on the BSE) as against its issue price of ₹949, a discount of 8%. The stock since then has fallen by around 8% or ₹67 even as benchmark indexes- Sensex and Nifty- witnessed recovery from the lows of Mid-May.

Investors lost money in Paytm, Zomato, Nykaa

LIC stock fall is a setback for investors who have lost money in companies such as Paytm, Zomato and Nykaa. LIC listed on May 17 at ₹867 (on the BSE) as against its issue price of ₹949, a discount of 8%.

Brokerage firm Emkay in a report titled "the elephant that can't dance" initiated coverage on LIC with a hold rating and a June 2023 target price of ₹875 (+8% upside), based on 0.9x June'23 expected EV (embedded value).

Emkay said its "neutral" view is underpinned by three factors including the low value of new business relative to embedded value; low annual premium equivalent growth and margin prospects; and inherent volatility in the embedded value of the company. The brokerage said they prefer private peers over LIC.

Earlier this week, managing director of LIC Raj Kumar said in the next five years LIC's value of new business margin will be on par with private players.

HOPES FOR OVER $1 BN IN FOREIGN INVESTMENT THIS YR

Sri Lanka is aiming to attract well over $1 billion in foreign direct investment this year, an official said on Friday, as the country wrestles with its worst financial crisis since independence in 1948. These include proposals by Marubeni Corp and India's Adani Group to set up renewable energy plants on the island, said Renuka Weerakone, director-general of the Board of Investment (BoI). Marubeni has put forward a proposal to set up an 800 megawatt (MW) solar and wind plant while the Adani Group has already completed feasibility studies on a similar 500 MW project that it hopes to wrap up in 18-24 months, she said. Two Chinese companies are also eyeing similar projects. The Sri Lankan government is expected to revamp legislation governing the energy sector this month, Weerakone said, which would allow large-scale projects to be implemented more smoothly. During the first quarter, Sri Lanka attracted $226 million in committed projects, a 16% increase over the same period in 2021, she said. Overall, the BoI is working on 49 project proposals worth $1.46 billion from countries including India, China, the UK, the United States, and Japan in manufacturing, apparel, services and tourism.

JAPAN

BOJ HIGHLIGHTS INFLATION AS RISK TO JAPAN ECONOMY

Rising prices of daily necessities could hurt household sentiment, Bank of Japan Governor Haruhiko Kuroda said on Friday, suggesting that mounting inflationary pressure is emerging as a risk to the country's fragile economy. Japan's core consumer inflation rose 2.1% year-on-year in April, exceeding the central bank's 2% target for the first time in seven years, due largely to surging fuel and raw material costs. Kuroda said it was undesirable for prices to rise too much when household income growth remains weak. "Prices are rising particularly for goods that households buy frequently such as gasoline and food," Kuroda told parliament. "These kind of price hikes could hurt consumer sentiment, so we need to watch developments carefully." Kuroda has repeatedly said the BOJ won't roll back its massive monetary stimulus as the recent rise in inflation was driven mostly by raw commodity costs and likely temporary. "What the BOJ hopes to achieve is a positive cycle in which prices rise gradually in tandem with strong economic growth and wage hikes," Kuroda said. "It's important to create an economic environment where wages can rise more," he added in stressing the need to keep monetary policy ultra-loose.

INDONESIA

RAISES 81 BILLION YEN FROM SAMURAI BOND SALE

Indonesia has raised 81 billion yen ($624.18 million) from a Samurai bond sale of three- to 10-year maturities, with proceeds to be used to help plug a fiscal deficit, the finance ministry said in a statement late on Thursday. The bond sale came a week after the sovereign sold $3.25 billion of Islamic bonds in its biggest ever sukuk issuance. The largest portion of the transaction for the Samurai bonds was the 68.2 billion yen sale of three-year bonds with a 0.96 per cent coupon. Jakarta also sold five-year bonds worth 5.1 billion yen with a 1.13 per cent coupon, seven-year bonds with a 1.27 per cent coupon amounting to 1.7 billion yen and 6 billion yen of 10-year notes with a 1.45 per cent coupon. The finance ministry said the sale was the biggest by a sovereign issuer in the Japanese debt market this year, amid choppy global market conditions due to the impact of global monetary tightening and rising geopolitical tensions. Earlier this week, Finance Minister Sri Mulyani Indrawati said Indonesia had chosen to tap foreign debt markets for funding despite market volatility due to a ballooning budget for energy subsidies and social protection.

Xiaomi India rejigs top deck, appoints Alvin Tse as General Manager

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

XIAOMI INDIA, which is being probed by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) and other government agencies, on Friday announced various organisational changes "for the next phase of growth".

Alvin Tse, a Xiaomi Global founding team member, POCO founding member, and former general manager of Xiaomi Indonesia, will assume the role of general manager, Xiaomi India. Being a British national and true global citizen, Alvin has helped Xiaomi expand successfully into many global markets, the smartphone maker said.

Anuj Sharma, who was previously appointed as Poco India's country director, will be rejoining Xiaomi India as its chief marketing officer.

The company also said Manu Kumar Jain, Xiaomi's face in India, transitioned to a global role as Group vice-president who is currently responsible for international strategy including international marketing and PR.

The appointment comes a month after the ED seized ₹5,551.27 crore from bank accounts of Xiaomi India in connection with the 'illegal outward remittances'. The order, however, was stayed by the Karnataka high court.

Xiaomi India, one of India's leading smartphone sellers, maintains that it acts according to the local laws and hasn't been involved in any wrongdoing.

It has also accused ED officials of making threats of physical violence during the investigation, which was termed 'baseless' by the agency.

In April this year, Jain had appeared before the ED in connection with a probe linked to the alleged contravention of foreign exchange law.

Xiaomi's tussle with Indian authorities comes in the backdrop of a worsening relationship between India and China and the crackdown of Chinese tech companies in India by the central government.

CRYPTOCURRENCIES' MARKET GROWS 500% IN FOUR YEARS

UMA KANNAN @ Bengaluru

THE crypto market has been expanding from just 5 million people worldwide in 2018 to 25 million today, growing 500% in past four years.

Crypto is the world's fastest growing asset class, and if this continues, by the end of 2025, it will be the world's largest asset class in terms of the number of people participating in it, and there will be 100 million people in crypto by 2025, said Edul Patel, co-founder and CEO of Mudrex, the largest crypto index investing platform.

In an interaction with TNIE, he said, "Of 24-25 million people, traders constitute only 11 million. Nearly 65% of users in crypto are retail investors, and most of these people have come into crypto only in last year, and these are the people that need help in investing over the longer run."

The retail crypto market did not exist 15 months ago, and the kind of products that were built in crypto till 2021 were keeping only traders in mind.

Retail investors have just come in, and in the next 18-24 months, as the retail audience grows from 12 million to 30 million, more products will be coming for them. We need to make sure that products created for them are simpler, easier to understand that there is regulatory protection, Patel added.

> Of 24-25 million people, traders constitute only 11 million. Nearly 65% of users in crypto are retail investors, most of them came into crypto last year
> Edul Patel, co-founder and CEO of Mudrex

Mudrex has over half a million users, and 90% of them are from India. The company is working with regulators and applying for licenses in Turkey, the US, Canada and Australia.

Talking about the regulation, Patel said, "We can't expect things to change overnight. The job of a regulator and that of a company are two different things. Financial services are the most regulated industry worldwide."

Regulators typically take longer as they are looking for a 10-20 year horizon. They will necessarily not push forward a decision in haste. What people look for is certainty and the regulator has to be certain before they change anything, the CEO said.

Patel said there wre a lot of positive sentiments while speaking to officials in the RBI. They were positive about the technology, and they were negative in the way cryptos are marketed today, he said.

Since many crypto companies are being launched in India, more competition means more people are working in educating regulators, he added.

Oil imports from Russia likely to go up by 20% in June

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

IMPORTS of Russian crude by India are likely to grow by 20% month-on-month to 1.05 million barrels per day (bpd) in June, as per the data compiled by commodity analysts Kpler.

The data highlighted India imported 840,645 barrels per day (bpd) of Russian crude in May, up from 388,666 bpd in April and 136,774 bpd in May last year. Currently, India requires a total of 5 million barrels oil per day for its usage. It means, considering all these figures, 25% of India's oil need is fulfilled by Russian crude.

India, which usually imports nearly 2% of its oil needs from Russia, has enhanced its imports ever since war broke out between Russia and Ukraine. Russia is the world's second-largest oil producer, and it supplies nearly 35% natural gas to Europe.

However, following the war, western countries have put various sanctions on Russia, including banning Russian crude in the European market. These countries are pressuring India to not to trade crude from Moscow at 'cheaper rate'. However, India has refused to do so, and on the contrary it has raised its crude purchase manifold from Russia. "India will continue to buy crude at competitive prices wherever it may be available across the world to fulfill its requirement for economy growth," said Gaurav Moda, India energy leader, EY. India is the world's third-largest oil importer, it imports nearly 80% of its crude requirement. India imports 52.7% from the Middle-East countries,15% from Africa and 14% from the US. It sources nearly 86% of crude oil, 75% of natural gas, and 95% of LPG from members of the OPEC+.

Govt cuts EPF interest rate to 8.1%

New Delhi: The government on Friday lowered rate of interest to 8.1% on employees' provident fund (EPF) deposits for 2021-22 -- Which is over four-decade low -- for about five crore subscribers of retirement fund body EPFO. Earlier in March this year, the Employees' Provident Fund Organisation (EPFO) had decided to lower the interest on provident fund deposits for 2021-22 to 8.1% from 8.5% provided in 2020-21 According to an EPFO order issued on Friday, the Ministry of Labour and Employment has conveyed approval of the central government to credit 8.1% rate of interest for 2021-22 to each member of the EPF scheme. The labour ministry had sent the proposal to the Ministry of Finance for its concurrence. Now, after the ratification of the interest rate, the EPFO would start crediting the fixed rate of interest for the fiscal into the EPF accounts. ENS

58 coal blocks to get operational in FY23

New Delhi: In a bid to tackle the ongoing coal crisis, the coal ministry on Friday said it expects 58 coal blocks to become operational during 2022-23 fiscal, and output is likely to be 138.28 MT. The ministry also said 85.32 million tonnes (MT) of coal has been produced in FY2021-22 from 47 coal blocks. "As against the scheduled production of 203.67 MT for FY2022-23, it is expected that 58 coal blocks would be operational with an expected production of nearly 138.28MT," said the ministry in a statement. It also said show cause notices are issued from time to time to the companies, which are not adhering to the timelines prescribed in their agreements for timely operationalisation of blocks or for non-achievement of targeted production. The scrutiny committee, in its meeting held recently reviewed cases of 24 mines – and recommended proportionate appropriation of performance security in 4 cases." ENS

Low purchasing power to impact food mkt: Britannia

SAMIKSHA GOEL @ New Delhi

FMCG major Britannia has warned of diminishing purchasing power and demand due to the economic circumstances, resulting in fundamental shifts in consumer behaviour, which it said would adversely impact the market for packaged food products.

The company, in its annual report, released on Thursday, said migration to value for money options could lead to reduced growth and profitability for the company.

The market leader in biscuits said broader trends in the economy are expected to have a direct impact on Britannia's growth prospects as well. Inflation is expected to remain elevated for the foreseeable future, driven by war-induced commodity price increases and broadening price pressures, it said.

"In addition, the anticipated increase in interest rates by central banks in the coming year are also expected to lower growth and exert pressure on economies, particularly those in emerging markets," it said. Prices of household goods have increased with FMCG giants like Hindustan Unilever, Britannia, Tata Consumer Products, Dabur increasing prices of their products - ranging from biscuits, sugar, salt and tea/coffee to soaps, shampoos and perfumes, among others.

"In these circumstances, the ability to navigate cost pressures would have a bearing on overall performance of the company," Britannia said in the report. The inflationary pressures resulted in reduced consumer demand, especially in rural markets, as well as an increased preference for products at lower price. As per a recent NielsenIQ report, FMCG sector volume fell 4.1% in Q4 FY22 from last year due to a fall in consumption across all zones and town classes, but more prominent in rural markets.

N R Narayana Murthy says IPOs come with huge responsibilities

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

INFOSYS co-founder N R Narayana Murthy on Friday said there is a certain kind of pressure on entrepreneurs in India to succeed as early as possible.

"We, in India, have not done a good job of estimating the market size. We have traditionally overestimated the market. We probably do not have good market research companies that can give us an accurate estimate of the market opportunities," Murthy said.

Speaking at the India Global Innovation Connect held in Bengaluru on Friday, Murthy, who is also the founder and chairman of Catamaran Ventures, said IPOs have somehow been taken as a surrogate for the next round of financing. "I think that's not a good thing, because an IPO comes with tremendous responsibilities," he said. "With pressure from VCs (venture capitalists), looking at IPOs as the next round of financing and finally, the inability to estimate the market size- invariably your cost goes up, but not revenues. Therefore, you make losses," he added.

He recalled the day when Infosys made an IPO in February 1993. Last year, 63 companies went public and mopped up ₹1.2 lakh crore through the IPOs. Addressing entrepreneurs, Murthy said disclosing bad news (about the company) is transparency and not hiding it. He said it is always best to bring bad news early and proactively. "If you don't do that you will not be able to sleep well and there is always an anxiety in other parties' minds because they also have sources to get some access to information. So, my view is that always bring bad news early and proactively," he added.

The Infosys co-founder also said that success of an entrepreneur comes because of market access, second ingredient is access to talent, and third ingredient is VC money, which is easily available today.

MARKETS

Options trade: Institutional client behind the fat finger error

RAM SAHGAL @ Mumbai

PRELIMINARY facts emerging from the fat finger error that occurred on June 2 suggest the loser on the trade was an institutional client who punched the erroneous order through direct market access (DMA), while a couple of proprietary traders were among the gaining counterparties, informed sources told TNIE.

DMA is used to describe the clients who have direct access to the market using computer-to-computer software of a broking member and routing orders through a broker's infrastructure. These clients tend to be large and with deep pockets.

While there is no indication of NSE annulling the trade, which led to the client losing ₹250 crore in minutes, the Association of National Exchanges Members of India (ANMI) seeks to hold a meeting with the NSE as early as Monday and subsequently with Sebi to scout for a solution that could prevent such trades from occurring. Attempts to contact NSE and Sebi officials for comment were unsuccessful. Kamlesh Shah, president, ANMI, told TNIE that proposed discussions would centre on issues like rationalising the daily price range and on possibly disallowing trades placed far away from the reference or last traded price of an underlying asset. Rajesh Baheti, former president, ANMI, proposed that against annulment, a settlement, if permissible under exchange byelaws, could involve the loss-making counterparty being allowed to square off the trade around 10-20% below the option's last traded price to mitigate part of his losses.

No indication of NSE annulling the trade

While there is no indication of NSE annulling the trade, which led to the client losing ₹250 crore in minutes, the Association of National Exchanges Members of India seeks to hold a meeting with the NSE as early as Monday

The client inadvertently sold 25,000 lots of a 14,500 call option on Nifty for a few paise per share (50 shares make one contract) against its price of ₹2,130 a share, causing the option to tank to 15 paise intraday before closing at ₹2130 mark. It is believed that prop traders' sniper algorithms that seize price discrepancies activated buys at the low levels and as the price began rising back up sold the contracts, making windfall gain due to the error. Their gain was client's loss as he had to buy back at high levels what he sold at 15 paise to square off his trade.

NSE , in a circular today, said, "(the) exchange continues to observe instances whereby few trading members are placing orders on the exchange platform at prices, which do not reflect the current price and are far from the last traded price/reference price /theoretical price...Members are advised to desist from ...executing transactions which, prima facie, appear to be non-genuine on their own account and/or on behalf of their clients and refrain from indulging in practices which lead to aberrations in the order book."

One of the most dominant women's players in recent times faces a rising US teen who can win her first Slam. A look at the women's final...

"I couldn't get rid of the expectations fully (in the semifinals), but I tried to accept that, that they are going to be there and it's going to stress me a little bit more."-Swiatek

The Swiatek forehand

Possibly one of the best weapons going around in the women's game right now. She uses it for both defence and offence and is adept at finding both sides of the court with it, creating impossible angles in the process. Can Gauff keep finding the Pole's backhand? If not, could be curtains.

"I think going in I have nothing to lose and she's definitely the favourite going into the match on paper. I'm just going to play free and play my best tennis. I think in a Grand Slam final anything can happen."-Gauff

Gauff's service games

Gauff has been highly successful thanks to the way she has been pouncing on breakpoint opportunities (35 out of 66). However, she has been broken a fair few times. Considering how solid Swiatek's serves have been, she has to be more solid with her own serves.

In the end, it ends in tears...

ON a muggy day under a translucent roof, the tension was palpable. It had stopped raining but the humidity and the heavy conditions added to the intrigue. Alexander Zverev had nothing to show considering he had dominated for vast swathes of the encounter that was three hours and 13 minutes old. Rafael Nadal was up to his old tricks, winning when not being at his best. He was up a set and trying to hold serve for the first time in five games to force a second set tie-break.

A Nadal backhand presented Zverev the opportunity to force deuce. While going for a full-blooded forehand drive, he rolled his right ankle. Hearing his screams, it was clear that Zverev would withdraw. He was in agony. The broadcaster even refused to show any replays — an indication of the severity of the injury — they did show it on the big screen at Court Philippe Chatrier. That the spectators let out a loud gasp after watching it told you everything. His team took him inside to see if it could be managed for a few hours but that was academic. Minutes later, he was back out, on crutches to acknowledge the chair umpire, the crowd. There was also a touching embrace between Nadal and him before he left the court unable to hide his tears. He was clearly unable to walk, grimacing and wincing when taking every step.

Even before the first semifinal began, it was clear that both players would be in for a testing evening. As the heavens opened, the roof would be closed for the duration of the match. That automatically meant heavier than normal conditions. It had the potential to throw both players off their game. On Friday morning, both of them had practised outdoors so they weren't clearly expecting this weather.

While the Spaniard, who will play for a 14th French Open and a 22nd Slam on Sunday, took more time to adjust to these conditions, Zverev adjusted almost from the get go. Nadal's shots from the baseline did not have its traditional zing — he had zero forehand winners till 80 minutes into the match — and the 25-year-old capitalised by winning four of the first six games in the opening stanza.

Nadal, who celebrated his 36th birthday on Friday, was already drenched in sweat because of the humid conditions. With even his shorts dripping with sweat, he stopped carrying balls in his pocket. On the other side of the net, Zverev looked calm and in control of the situation. He was getting a high percentage of his first serves to land in the right spots and his forehand was working like a charm, two of his key weapons. He has used these weapons previously to beat the Spaniard thrice in nine outings.

But one thing that Nadal has showed time and again, including in the last few days, is that he doesn't have to be at his best. He's the master at winning the moments that really count.

Sakshi's golden return, India women win 3 gold

FIROZ MIRZA @Chennai

FOR the first time since the 2019 World Championships, Sakshi Malik had grabbed a place in the 62kg weight category in the national squad last month. It had taken the 29-year-old five bouts to finally beat her nemesis — 20-year-old Sonam Malik — in selection trials to earn that place. To achieve the same, the Rio Olympics bronze medallist not only sharpened her skills on the mat but off it too by hiring a psychologist a few months back.

The efforts put in by the Railway wrestler paid huge dividends as she clinched a gold medal at an ongoing Ranking Series in Almaty on Friday. Incidentally, this was her first gold in more than four years. The last time she finished first in an international event was back in December 2017 when she won gold in the Commonwealth Championship.

The second day of the event turned out to be a fruitful outing for the Indian contingent as women wrestlers won three gold and a bronze medal. Mansi (57kg), who replaced injured Anshu Malik in the squad, and Divya Kakran (68kg) were other gold winners while Pooja (76kg) bagged bronze. On Day 1, India had won one bronze with Greco-Roman wrestler Neeraj finishing third in 63kg.

"The sessions with the psychologist proved to be immensely helpful as I reclaimed my place in the 62kg weight category," Sakshi had told this daily after she made the national squad. On Friday, Sakshi put up a dominating show, overpowering local wrestler Irina Kuznetsova 10-0 by technical superiority in round one and followed it up with a 9-3 win over Uzbek wrestler Rushana Abdirasulova. Her Mongolian opponent, Tserenchimed Sukhee, forfeited the semifinal bout giving Sakshi an easy passage to the final where she pinned Kuznetsova to win 7-4. "It was a brilliant show by our wrestlers, especially Sakshi. She played aggressively and was dominating in every bout. It's a good sign for her as making a comeback in the Commonwealth Games (CWG) selection trials and then clinching a gold medal after almost five years is not an easy task," women's team head coach Jitender Yadav told this daily from Almaty.

Spain pegged back by late Portugal equaliser

MADRID: Spain were denied a winning start by Portugal in the Nations League as Alvaro Morata's first-half finish was cancelled by a late equaliser from Ricardo Horta. Morata sidefooted home at the end of a scintillating counter and while Cristiano Ronaldo came on in second half for Portugal, it was another substitute who grabbed the equaliser as Horta swept in with eight minutes left.

No funds must be given to NSFs: HC

THE two-judge bench of judges Najmi Waziri and Vikas Mahajan said in their order on Friday since there is no clarity as to which of the NSFs is following the National Sports Development Code of India (2011), "no more monies will be expended nor any assistance be extended to any NSFs, till the next date". With less than two months for the Commonwealth Games, this is a big setback for the NSFs.

This was in response to the senior advocate Rahul Mehra's petition which had been questioning ministry's recognition of NSFs despite not conforming to the sports code. Mehra said none of the NSFs adhere to sports code in toto. "They are suspended and it will be revoked as soon as they follow sports code," he said. "It can happen in a day or two or may take a week or two." On Thursday, the bench heard the matter and summoned joint secretary of the sports ministry on Friday to present ministry's view on sports code compliance.

On Friday, sports ministry's joint secretary, LS Singh, submitted a one-page chart "purporting to be a Status Report of five groups of NSFs, which have been granted extension". According to the ministry, 15 NSFs have complied with the sports code, six have been granted exemption from certain provisions of the sports code, while in three, administrators have been appointed through court order, five need minor adjustments while 17 need extensive amendments.

However, Mehra did not agree with the submission and argued that at least 24 NSFs have positions which are not contemplated in the sports code. "None of them comply with sports code ," said Mehra. "I asked the ministry if the NSFs have 25 per cent representation of sports persons? Do they have prominent sportspersons with voting rights? They did not have an answer."

DAY'S DIARY

First shopping cart

The world's first shopping carts were introduced at Humpty Dumpty grocery stores on this day in 1937, invented by Sylvan Goldman

FOR A SHOPPING SPREE

Sylvan, an American supermarket owner, dreamed it up as a way of encouraging shoppers to buy more items in his Humpty Dumpty chain of stores

INSPIRATION

The frame was inspired by a folding chair and held two wire shopping baskets, one above the other, doubling the quantity of goods that could be carried

LONG-LASTING DESIGN

The design of the grocery cart would remain the same for decades, but minor additions helped to shape the cart into what it is today

'I LEARNT TO RESPECT PEOPLE FROM DR RAJKUMAR'

Tamil superstar Kamal Haasan, who was in the city to promote his latest film, Vikram, recalls the early years of his career, much of which were spent in Bengaluru

A SHARADHAA

IT was a trip down memory lane for Tamil superstar Kamal Haasan, who was in Bengaluru to promote his latest film, Vikram. The city holds a special place, especially since he spent a lot of time here during his younger years. "I used to frequently come to Bengaluru and had met some good people," says the legendary filmmaker, who specially mentioned Suchitra Film Society.

Every time director Puttanna Kanagal made a film, director K Balachander, who is also Haasan's guru, would drive down to Bengaluru, only to watch the film on the first day of its release. "And I would often accompany him," he recalls.

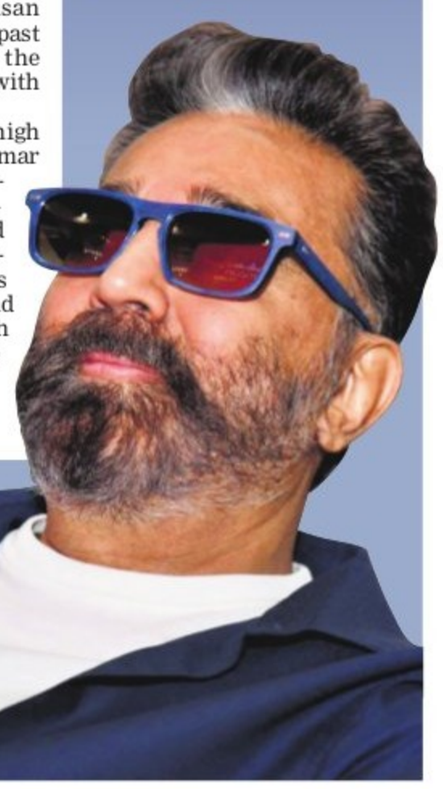
A big fan of late theatre artiste Girish Karnad, Haasan would also visit the city to meet BV Karanth. Recalling his shooting days here, Haasan says, "While I was shooting for Kokila in Bangalore, I would stay at Hotel Paraag. A lot of portions for Pathinaru Vayathinile were shot in Kollegal," says Haasan, who adds that Bengaluru has given him a lot of love which he's ever-grateful for.

There was a time when Haasan knew his way around Bengaluru's roads, however, that has changed now. "I used to enjoy going for a jog every time I was here. Today, I would be lost if I am left at the Kempegowda circle," says Haasan with a chuckle.

The Windsor Manor Bridge holds a special landmark in Kamal Hassan's Pushpaka Vimana(1987). When they were passing by the Windsor Manor Bridge to reach the event venue (Mantri Mall), the chauffeur remarked that he always thinks of Haasan every time he drives past the bridge. "That's the connection he made with me," he says.

Haasan, who has high regard for Dr Rajkumar learnt to respect people from the legendary actor. "He had appreciated my acting skills when I was just 21. He would stand next to me as though he was seeking a role from me. That's the respect he gave every artiste. He inaugurated my maiden production house 'Raja Paarvai' and came on the first day of the Pushpak shoot to support me," Haasan says.

The legendary actor misses Dr Rajkumar and his son, Puneeth. "These are things that are not in our control. If Puneeth were alive, we might have done a film together," he says.



The wild side

Son of IPS officer PS Harsha, Amoghavarsha is displaying his shots of big cats, dholes, Indian gaur, antelopes, and several birds

ISHRATH MUBEEN

CAMOUFLAGED in the woods, eyes waiting to catch a wild cat, and camera-ready to capture the moment. These are the experiences that helped Amoghavarsha master the art of photography. In fact, he also travelled to Nagarhole National Park over a thousand times to get one perfect click of the wild cat, the black panther. Amogha's work, which comprises pictures of the big cats, dholes, Indian gaur, antelopes, and several birds, is on display at the Karnataka Chitrakala Parishath till Sunday.

Son of IPS officer PS Harsha, Amoghavarsha has explored the jungles around India since he was four. "Since my childhood days, we have been travelling to jungles. That's when I developed an empathy for nature," says the student of National Public School.

In the last seven years, Amogha has clicked over 60,000 pictures in several forests across India. With no formal training, the 14-year-old owes his skills to his mother who has been his mentor. "My mom is a passionate wildlife photographer. Initially, I would use a 'Nikon P900 point and shoot', a gift from my parents on my ninth birthday. Three years ago, they got me a P950. Now, I have a D4S, a DSLR camera with a focal length of 500 mm. I'm improving on the go," says Amogha.

Chaitra Harsha, Amogha's mother, says that travelling has played a key role in Amogha's interests. "With every safari, he learnt something new. He studied the statistics of birds, the cause of the decrease in the number of tigers, and got a chance to explore several bird species. Amogha became more sensitised towards nature."

1. It's the jackfruit season - and there are these amazing airy idlis steamed in jackfruit leaves, with a slightly different taste. Do you know what these are called?
2. As is usual with season changes and monsoons, there's an onset of flus and colds. This Ayurvedic traditional drink, made with an assortment of spices, is known for healing properties for cold, sore throat and improving immunity. Can you name this drink AND three essential ingredients?
3. Another seasonal ingredient – this one is used to popularly make pickles or even in saaru or chitranna, and is a low-calorie fruit that's rich in vitamins and minerals. What's the fruit we are talking about? Hint: Think berries

Musically charged

Bollywood singer-composer B Praak will be performing in Bengaluru on Sunday as part of his month-long tour of different cities

EXPRESS FEATURES

HE'S happiest on stage like most artistes. Which is why Bollywood singer-composer B Praak, aka, Pratik Bachan can't contain his excitement about his month-long tour to different cities. The singer is on a large-scale tour starting this month, as part of gig series Supermoon by ZEE Live. The tour kicked-off on May 28 in Mumbai, and is proceeding to Bengaluru, Pune, and Ahmedabad. Known for Punjabi and Hindi songs, the solo artiste says, "My shows are all about having fun. If fans enjoy my shows, it means that my hard work has paid off," says Bachan, whose Bengaluru gig is on June 5.

For Bachan, live shows are all about meeting fans in person. "Whoever I am today is because of the constant love of my fans. Apart from my music, stage shows have been a way for me to reach out to them. But the lockdown was harsh with no stage shows. Now, I hope to be back with a bang," says Bachan.

He started his career in music direction before debuting as a singer with the hit song Mann Bharrya. Recognised as one of India's known Punjabi artistes, he has been part of some mega hits like Do You Know, Horn Blow, Backbone, Baarish Ki Jaaye, Teri Mitti, Filhall to name a few.

This is the first time Bachan is performing in Bengaluru. The city has a reputation of being the rock capital of the country, and the singer is quite looking forward to the performance. "When it comes to good music, language is not a hurdle. I know people from Bengaluru have a fine taste in music," says Bachan. Having composed and sung different genres of music, Bachan is glad to see a whole lot of talent among the newer generation. "I personally love Adele and Billie Eilish," says Bachan, who loves the work done by Mozart of Madras - AR Rahman.

WHAT'S ON TED TALKS

1 WHY AFRICA NEEDS COMMUNITY-LED CONSERVATION BY RESSON KANTAI DUFF
Conservation efforts in Africa have typically been led by "parachute conservationists" – outsiders who drop in thinking they have all the answers, hire locals to implement them and then disappear. But conservationist Resson Kantai Duff has a better way to save wildlife in Africa: let locals lead these efforts themselves.

5 THE BIGGEST MISTAKES IN MAPMAKING HISTORY BY KAYLA WOLF
For thousands of years, people made both functional maps and what are known as cosmographies, illustrating the earth and its position in the cosmos, often including constellations, gods, and mythic locations. These maps were meant to depict the world's geography, but weren't necessarily useful for navigation and contained some glaring mistakes.

FIT BIT

ARDHA UTTANASANA VARIATION

(HALF UPWARD FORWARD FOLD)

This is also called a standing half forward fold that relaxes and restores the body and mind. In spiritual practice, this pose stimulates the third eye chakra and opens the heart. In this asana, the practitioner folds forward at the hips from a standing position, then lifts the head and heart, gently pressing them outward. To increase the heart-opening benefits of this asana, it can be practised with the hands on a wall. It has a wide range of therapeutic benefits and reduces stress, anxiety and depression.

STEPS
- Start in Tadasana. Align your body with your spine, shoulders rolled behind, and breathe softly. Place your hands on the hips as you inhale and bend forward, exhaling.
- From here, bring the arms out in front, stretching to come forward parallel to the ground lengthening the elbows.
- The legs should be straight, a neat alignment of ankles, calf muscles, thighs and buttocks. Breathing, keep the back straight consciously.
- Keeping the spine alert and looking forward take the upper body down. Do not hang the head but keep it alert by looking ahead.
- Place the palms by the side of the foot. Stay for a while and then place the palms on the floor. Keep your legs straight and don't lean front or back.
- Breathe, feel the deep stretch in the hamstrings, calf muscles, glutes, and hip joints. With every exhale, align the body.
- Stay according to your capacity. Then come back to Tadasana. Repeat, staying longer with full breath-body awareness.

BENEFITS
- Stretches the hamstrings, calf and maximus muscles, piriformis, gluteus, wrists, arms, and shoulders.
- Strengthens the ankle and knee joints, arms, leg and back muscles, the core, and lengthens the spine.
- Enhances the flexibility and relieves stiffness of the back and leg muscles..
- It brings awareness and focus.
- Facilitates spine extension and releases tension.
- Releases gases from the body. Beneficial during periods.

LIMITATIONS
- People with hamstring or lower back injuries, herniated disc, joint problems, weak ankles, knees, wrists, or high BP, should avoid this asana.
- Don't jerk while practising the asana. While going forward if your lower back hurts, avoid the pose.
- Senior citizens and pregnant women, avoid this.

A MID-SUMMER'S ICE CREAM

For the second time, this city cafe is converting itself into a night ice cream bar this weekend

ANILA KURIAN

IT'S hot, rainy, cold and sometimes in between. But seasons aside, Bengalureans have been ordering scoops of ice cream. Which is why, Vinesh Johny of Lavonne Cafe is coming back with his second edition of Late Night Scoop on Saturday.

The previous one in December saw 400 customers throng the St Mark's Road outlet till late at night. "We wanted to do a summer edition but the rains kept delaying our plans. We are now going ahead with a general theme," says Johny.

Brie and Cream Cheese ice cream, Chocolate ice cream with Cherry Confiture, Passion Fruit Sorbet with Coconut Kaki Gori to Lemon Ricotta Strawberry Doughnuts, there are eight varieties to choose from. "All the chefs at the restaurant have had a hand in this. We've been working on the flavours for months now. Not everything that looks good on paper actually tastes good. So we had to continue working till we got the flavours right," he says.

The signature ice cream is Kaki Gori, a shaved dessert flavoured with syrup and a sweetener, often condensed milk. The idea of this late night scoop is to have it only for one day to keep up the excitement. "We are looking forward to see how people react to this one," says Johny.

The restaurant will be closed in the second-half and redecorated for the Late Night Scoop event. All items will have a flat rate of ₹500 per item.

UI, THE MOVIE,

OFFICIALLY LAUNCHED IN TRUE UPPI STYLE

CE FEATURES

UPENDRA, who made his directorial debut in the year 1992 with Tarle Nanmaga, has completed 3 decades in the industry. He's returning to direction after a 7-year gap, and this has created a lot of hype amongst the audience.

The film, which has the symbolic title UI, was launched true to Uppi's signature style. The actor, along with the producers, and the team, clad in dhoti represented the title on their foreheads, and it won a lot of attention.

The intrigue had been dialled up right from the release of the concept poster, which features a horse-like animal, and other caricatures. However, Upendra was bombarded with questions about the title and the story, but he remained tight-lipped about it and said that he was making people exercise their brains. But Upendra did share that the one-liner for the film was something he had conceptualised 15-20 years ago, and this felt the right time to revive it. "People have faith in my direction, and I will not let them down. Honesty is the best tool for success," he says.

The film, which commenced with a pooja event, had the presence of Shivarajkumar and his wife Geetha, Kichcha Sudeep, Duniya Vijay, Dhananjay, and Vasishta Simha. Shivanna, who is a good friend of Uppi, called him our 'Mani Ratnam', and expressed his adulation for his work. "His directorial, Om, gave a turn in my career. The making that he did in 1995 is still a trendsetter. I'm glad he is making a comeback," said Shivanna.

Sudeep, who is happy to be part of the launch celebration, wished Uppi and the team. "I'm happy that your direction is coming around at a good time. Please complete shooting soon as we are eagerly waiting to watch it on the silver screen," said the actor.

The film will be produced by G Manoharan's Lahari Films and KP Sreekanth's Venus Entertainers. The makers, who have begun shooting will soon reveal the details about the cast and crew.

Gajanana and Gang takes you on a nostalgic trip to your good old college days

GAJANANA AND GANG

Cast: Abhishek Shetty, Aditi Prabhudeva, Suchendra Prasad, Raghu Ramankoppa, Vardhan, Ashwin Hasan, Nagendra URS, Shrimahadev

Director: Abhishek Shetty

A SHARADHAA

FOR many, college life is something that remains as evergreen memories for the rest of their lives. It is almost as if Abhishek Shetty, in his desire to time-travel to his college days, has recreated the same with his film, Gajanana and Gang. The film captures college life filled with fun moments, first friendships, good and bad experiences associated with it, handling the seniors, and more. Gajanana and Gang also shows how college is a place where one can discover oneself, find soulmates, face exams, and above all, forge friendships that last a lifetime.

RATING 2.5/5

The film is essentially about a not-so-handsome youth, who is unable to find love. This makes him sadistic and he derives pleasure from others' pain. There is also another plot involving Gaja (Shri), out of his love for Sahitya (Aditi Prabhudeva), somehow manages to enroll in the same college as her. It is here that he befriends Vishnu (Abhishek Shetty), Shiva (Natya Ranga), Mounesh (Chethan Durga) and Krishna (Leo Sharma). In no time, they become thick buddies and Shri starts to prioritise his friends over love, which backfires on him. Will he give up his friendship or love forms one part of the story. While Krishna is shown to be a good friend, he is the odd one out of the gang. The reason behind his unusual behaviour is brought out convincingly, and the climax about friendship and love delivers a feel-good message.

Considering that it's a film set against a college backdrop, the atmosphere is lively, and the director lets the actors bring in their quirks to their respective characters. All the actors, especially Shri and Abhishek, have kept it natural. Aditi Prabhudeva is the soul of the entire plot and has a charming presence in the film. Krishna delivers a standout performance and manages to bring out cruelty and guilt through his body language. While the director could have chosen to add more intrigue to this character, he has instead kept it light-hearted. While the run-time of the film is less than 2 hours, it still has repetitive scenes, extensive fights and unwarranted sequences.

Overall, Gajanana ... is a neat entertainer with a message for all age groups. It's a film for those who might find the purpose of life at their college, and for the rest, it might reminds us of the good ol' days.

FULFILLING ACTION SAVES THIS AMBITIOUS MULTI-STARRER

VIKRAM

Cast: Kamal Haasan, Fahadh Faasil, Vijay Sethupathi, Gayathri

Director: Lokesh Kanagaraj

SUDHIR SRINIVASAN

CLEARLY, Lokesh Kanagaraj isn't one to make a film and forget about it. It's well-known by now—especially after Lokesh himself published a statement on the eve of Vikram's release—that the Kamal Haasan-film shares its universe with the filmmaker's second, Kaithi. In that film, we saw Dilli (Karthi) join hands with Bejoy (Narain) to stop a battalion of gangsters from reclaiming their drug stash. In Vikram, set after the events of Kaithi, you see Bejoy making an extended appearance, even as some other faces from Kaithi step in and out as well. You learn that their boss is Sandhanam (Vijay Sethupathi, playing a drug-addled, quirky boss). I liked that Sethupathi experiments with his look and dialogue delivery in this film. As for the Lokesh filmography links, there's quite a bit from Kaithi, including the protagonist being called the Ghost. I also found it hard not to think of Master given that you see Karnan (Kamal) getting hammered for much of the first half, even though Vikram doesn't belong in the same universe. Lokesh also tips his hat off to the original Vikram (1986) by using some photos and information for a backstory. None of these is crucial connections necessarily; it's just Lokesh having a bit of fun. It's a bit like his tendency to use old songs as background score. In this film, you get 'Chakku Chakku Vathikuchi' (Asuran) and later, 'Kalviya Selvama Veerama' (Saraswathi Sabatham), but here, the filmmaker doesn't do it with too much conviction, and so, you too are not as entertained by the use of old songs as you were, say, in previous films of his.

Vikram's first half is a fascinating exercise, marked by surprisingly swift appearances from Kamal Haasan, playing Karnan (and later, Vikram). Lokesh may have called a lot of attention to his admiration for Kamal Haasan (he called this film a 'fanboy sambavam'), but well into an hour of the film, I was pleasantly surprised that there was no real urgency in utilising Kamal's physical presence. I say 'physical' because his spiritual presence—or specifically, his character's—is smattered all over the film until the interval reveal. It's a bit like how the characters of Ayn Rand's novel Atlas Shrugged go, "Who is John Galt?" for the longest time. Here, the big question in the first half—especially from Fahadh Faasil's Amar—is, "Who is Karnan?" Lokesh betrays no restlessness in answering this question. He takes his time to introduce you to the world, to the motivations and fears of Sandhanam, to the ruthlessness and romance of Amar. It's fair, I think, to say that his vision here isn't as diluted as in Master. In fact, so much does Lokesh revel in these multi-starrers that for much of this film, it feels almost like Amar were the protagonist, even as he digs into the case of the police murders. Fahadh Faasil gets ample screen-time to express himself, and I enjoyed that even his relationship with Gayathrie, as hurried as it is, feels fresh.

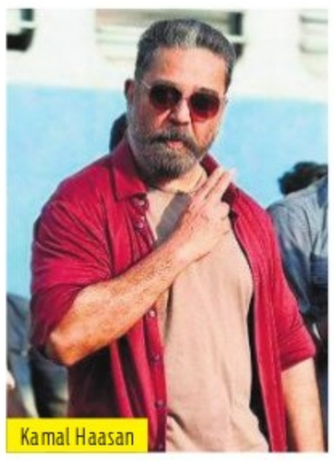
Kamal, of course, comes in with flourish, charisma, and quirk. Most importantly, he seems to be having a lot of fun in this film. You can see this in small arches of his eyebrows, in energetic steps to 'Pathala Pathala', in even some self-admonishing dialogue... In particular, his return to action territory is enjoyable and it is much credit to his energy reserves that I bought every set-piece he's a part of. When not involved in close combat, he's shown to use much fancy weaponry, including a cannon. I enjoyed the attempts to create unique set-pieces in this film. One stunt sequence happens in silence, for instance. In another, there's the beautiful idea of a man forced to kill many men in order to be able to feed a baby. The actor's American-ised English still seems to come in the way of organic dialogue delivery, and his Chennai Thamizh, which seemed par for the course in the pre-Ranjith era, feels a tad exaggerated now—especially when you see Vikram switching to the dialect almost in a condescending fashion. I also didn't care for what seemed to be a passing dig at a dwarf.

In this film with as many impressive action blocks involving Kamal Haasan, my most favourite is one that doesn't involve him--and this again is credit to the star's willingness to let Lokesh do his thing. It features a woman, who gets a Tarantinoesque announcement of her identity. The violence is all tastefully shot and inventively choreographed, but after a while, it began ringing a bit hollow. There's some justification offered for all the vigilantism when Vikram speaks of how the label 'terrorism' is conveniently applied and how one man's revolution is another man's terrorism, and while there may be some truth to these attractive one-liners, there isn't too much exploration of such ideas in this film. For lack of it, even though Vikram stands against the idea that this could be a revenge story (and perhaps this is Lokesh speaking about it as well), it's hard to see it as anything but that. The line about drugs affecting society rings fairly cursory too (whilst reminding you of a similar idea in Master). Some other ideas too don't affect as they should—like a toilet flush resulting in a bomb blast, like the resuscitation of a baby...



Kamal Haasan

It's perhaps the influence of The Dark Knight on a generation of filmmakers and filmgoers that it's impossible not to think of the film when you see echoes elsewhere. In Vikram, for instance, vigilantes are out and about. They are climbing into buildings; they are hanging from ropes. Vikram says something about masks being needed to do good. Characters wear a bit too much makeup to disguise themselves. And there's even a dutiful government officer who loses his spouse and steps into the dark side. But where the English film, despite being about all the action, was a thorough dissection of humanity, of the sacrifice it takes to do good, of the interdependency of good and evil, Vikram is largely content to capture the carnage. It looks good, but I'm not sure it feels as good as a Kaithi did.

And yet, Vikram's merits lie in how Lokesh refuses to have succumbed to the temptation of making a film that sings paeans for the superstar. Who knows, the filmmaker might well go on to realise his vision of creating a series of films connected to each other and occurring in the same universe—films that may bring into the fold more stars like Suriya and provide a platform in which they can play characters they couldn't otherwise. The future seems full of possibilities and that's my most heartening takeaway from Vikram. If, however, you went all binary on me, and posed a variation of the question that was asked so famously to Velu Naicker—and in this film, to Vikram: "Vikram nalla padama ketta padama?" I'd have to take a page from their book and respond with a rather vague answer. Much like the morality of both characters, I'll have to say it lies somewhere in between, and much like those two men, the film does tilt towards the good.

Shahrukh Khan-Atlee's Jawan announced

CE FEATURES

Atlee

Shahrukh Khan in a still

THE teaser of Shah Rukh Khan's upcoming film Jawan with director Atlee Kumar released on Friday. The movie is scheduled to release on June 2, 2023.

The video opens with Shah Rukh wrapping his head with a bandage. He looks like a vigilante. A bird is fluttering around as he removes a sheet on a table to reveal an ensemble of arms and ammunition. The walkie talkie behind him crackles to life and a voice says "Good to go, chief". Shah Rukh then looks into the camera and says, "Ready?". The teaser ends with him sitting at what seems like a metro station.

Talking about the film, Shah Rukh said, "Jawan is a universal story that goes beyond languages, geographies and is for all to enjoy. Credit goes to Atlee for creating this unique film, which has also been a fantastic experience for me as I love action films! The teaser is the just tip of the iceberg and gives a glimpse into what's to come".

Atlee, known for directing films like Raja Rani, Theri, Mersal and Bigil, said, "Jawan has something in it for everyone be it actions, emotions, drama all woven into create a visual spectacle. I want to give the audiences an exceptional experience, an event which they all can enjoy together and who better to deliver it than Shah Rukh Khan himself, presented like never before".

The film will mark the Hindi feature film debut of Anirudh Ravichander. Jawan will be released in Hindi, Tamil, Telugu, Malayalam and Kannada.
